Get ready . . . get set . . .
Study!

Fall quarter at Middle Georgia College began with the traditional events and necessary agonies — moving in, getting adjusted to new friends and a unique environment, registration, the faculty reception, and orientation to the academic program. But as the year progressed, the multi-faceted routine of college life provided opportunities for academic investigation, personality exploration, and social maturity.

As students settled into the schedule of college life, they found scientific equipment to experiment with the physical world, computers to solve the most complex riddles, and library resources for extensive research and study.

Fall Convocation

Forthright, witty, provocative — Dr. William Self, Pastor of Wieuca Road Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia, and Convocation Speaker in the Fall. He elicited laughter, thought, and confidence from students as he encouraged them to find themselves and seek to lead productive, vigorous lives. Students were enthralled by his vibrant talk and gave him a standing ovation after his speech.

Special Events

Through federal grants for cultural affairs, Middle Georgia has traditionally offered for its students an outstanding cultural arts series every year. This year the program began with the Goose Creek Symphony, who received only a mediocre response from students. However, later on in fall quarter, the Rainer Twins gave an unusually entertaining piano concert; they were so well-liked that many students went backstage after the performance to ask for autographs and to chat with the artists.

Middle Georgia College was particularly lucky to be able to show this year the CIVILISATION films, a series of thirteen color films, a personal view of the ideas and events of the last sixteen hundred years in the history of Western man, written and narrated by Kenneth Clark and produced by the British Broadcasting Corporation and presented by TIME-LIFE films. Many students chose to use these films to fulfill partially the requirements for social science courses. The films were shown on Thursdays.

In addition, the Student Activities Committee worked diligently this year and provided not only an exceptional array of films shown on Wednesday nights, but also booked and presented many popular bands and singing groups. Engaged twice during the year was the AVALANCHE, pictured here.

Campaigns . . . posters . . . ballots . . . Student Council.

The Student Council election began by putting up posters and continued throughout the week with handshakes, smiles, and the usual, "Vote for me!" Local bands played to encourage spirit among the students. After the election at the end of the week and the council members had been announced, the hardest parts of the game began — guiding and governing the student body.

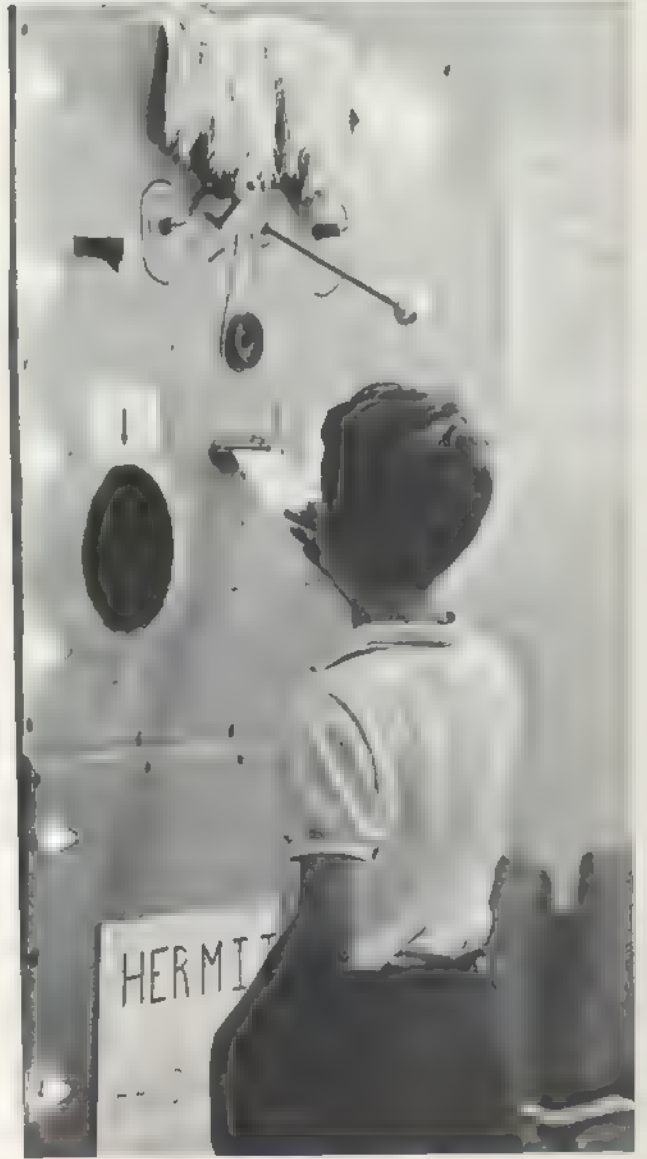

Fall Activities Carnival

Besides co-ordinating the work of all clubs on campus, the Presidents Club this year sought to raise club enrollments by sponsoring an Activities Carnival during fall quarter. Here each club set up a booth to inform students of its functions. In addition to enlisting new members, all the clubs participated in visiting each others' booths, entering into the spirit of gaiety that pervaded the lounge of Georgia Hall.

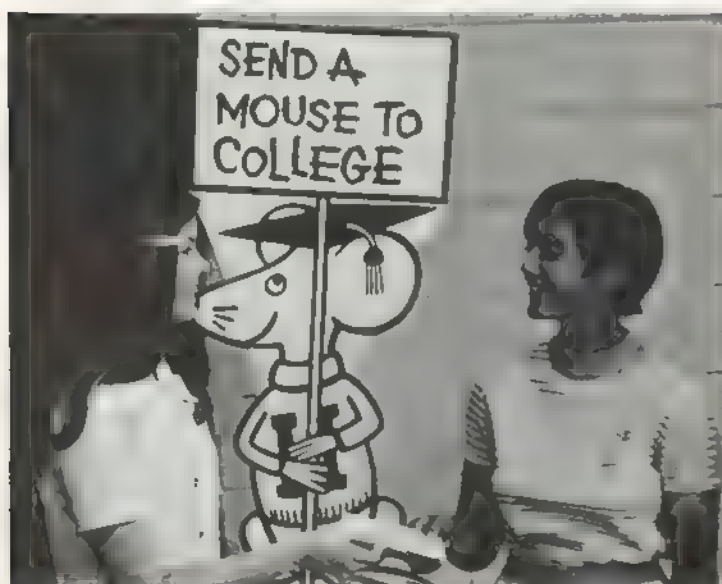

Mice . . . Money . . . Meetings . . .

One of the most active groups on campus, the Civitan Club participated in the American Cancer Society's "Send a Mouse to College" Fund Drive. For two days, members collected money from students and faculty; at twenty-seven cents each, a mouse could be bought for cancer research. The drive yielded a total of $180.00, or over 666 mice.

Wearing their blue and white jerseys, Civitan members also participated in the Presidents Club's "Good Sportsmanship" campaign, a drive to improve school spirit at basketball games.

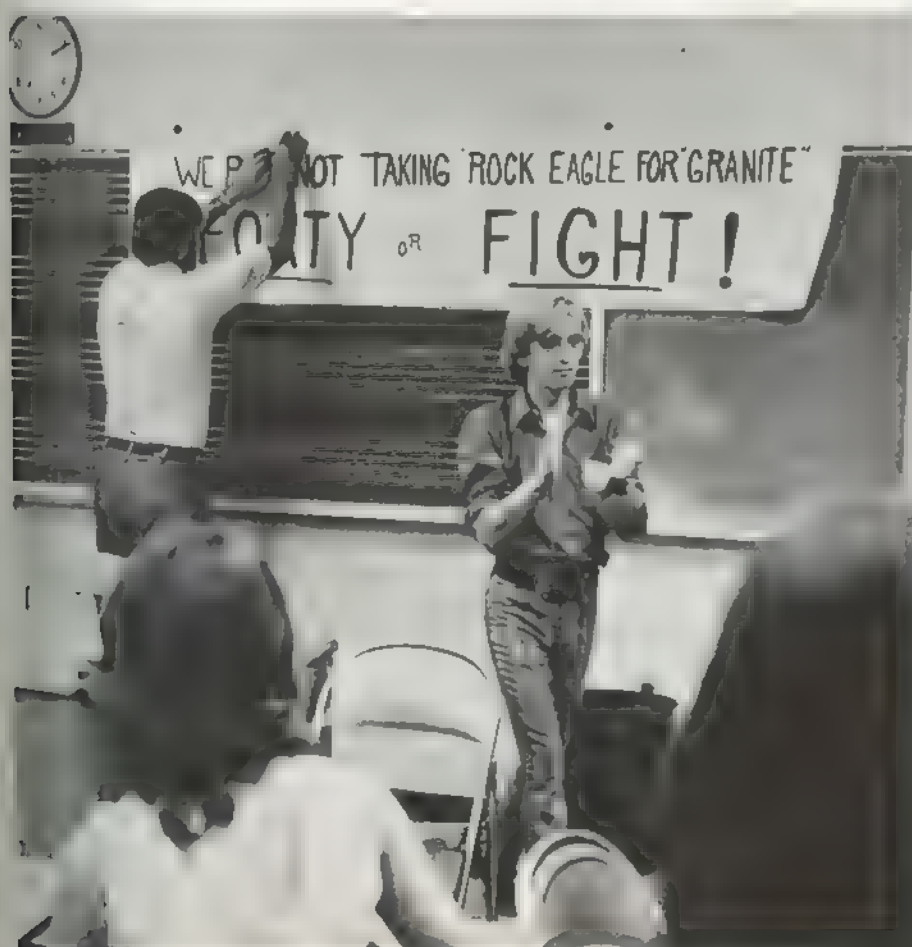

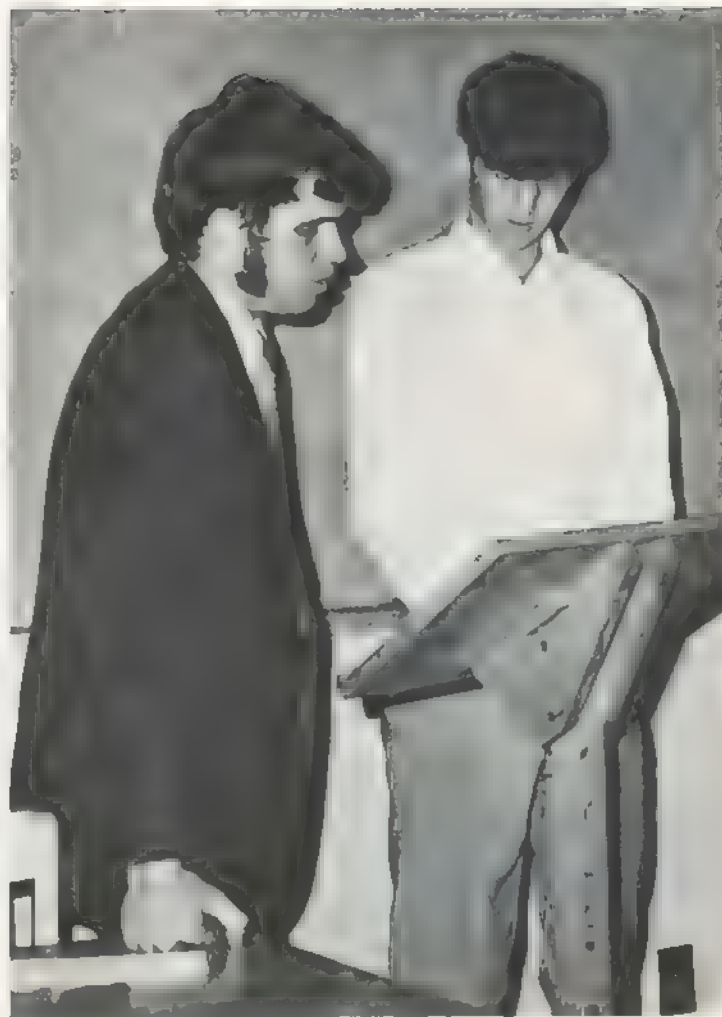

Another active club, Quintas Stellas kicked off its year of work with a cook-out at the home of its sponsor, Miss Judy McDonald. One of its extremely successful projects was a Fall Fashion Show, featuring clothes from stores in Eastman, Cochran, and Hawkinsville.

In addition to catering the Christmas formal dance and serving refreshments at the Faculty Reception in September and the Christmas Cantata Tea, this club ordered new magazines for the Georgia Hall Lounge. Monthly meetings featured programs on making afghans, choosing precious and semi-precious stones, and evaluating home economics legislation.

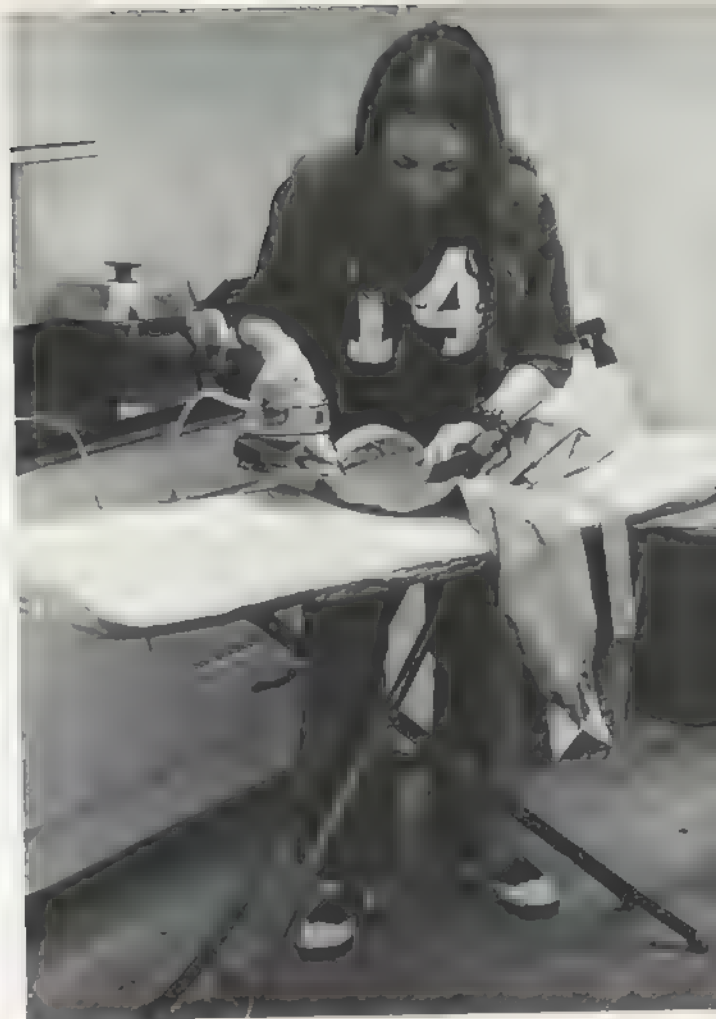

Service through Love.

Offering service in many areas, the Baptist Student Union had some of the busiest club members on campus. Pictured here is Dr. Aubrey Hawkins, Executive-Secretary in charge of Student Work for the Georgia Baptist Convention, who spoke to the club early in the year to help them build enthusiasm.

Then the group worked hard to get forty members to attend the fall BSU convention at Rock Eagle; "Forty or fight" was the slogan for this campaign.

Arranging numerous musical-religious programs, the BSU sponsored the performance of the Glenville Baptist Church Youth Choir, pictured here.

Other activities of this club included viewing religious films, raising money for summer missions, visiting rest homes, and visiting area churches to give personal testimonies and programs.

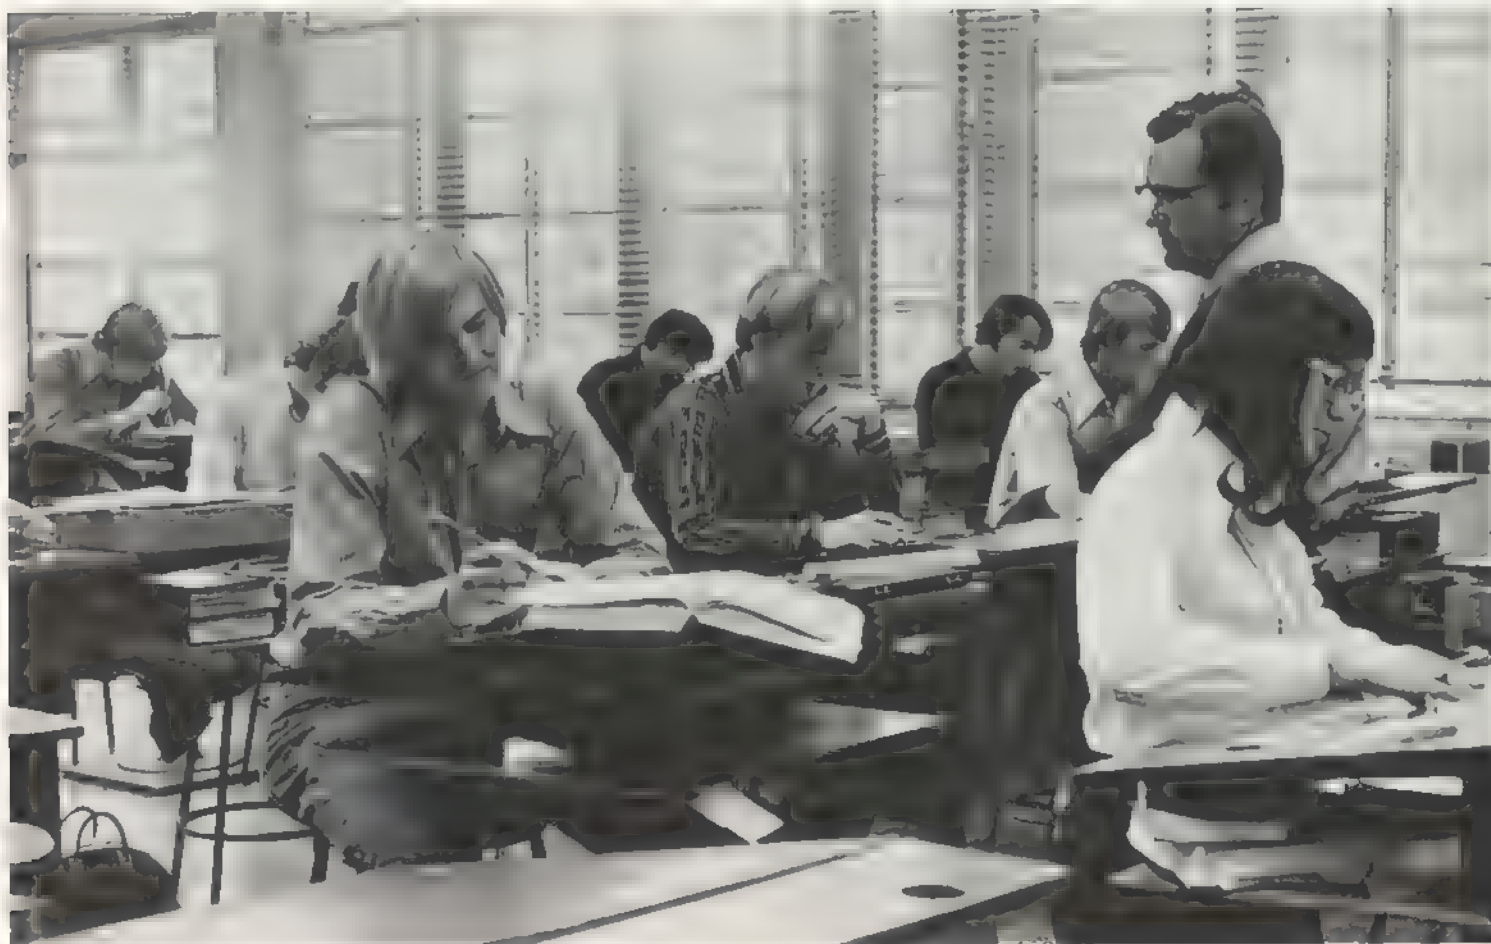

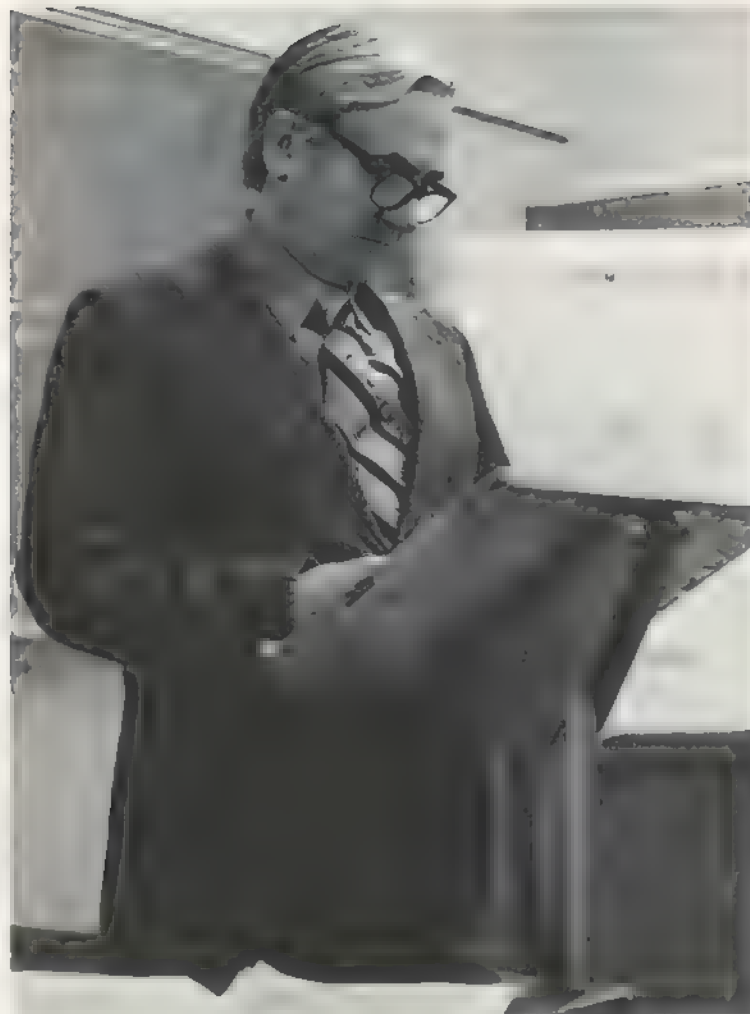

Days of toil and hours of ease . . .

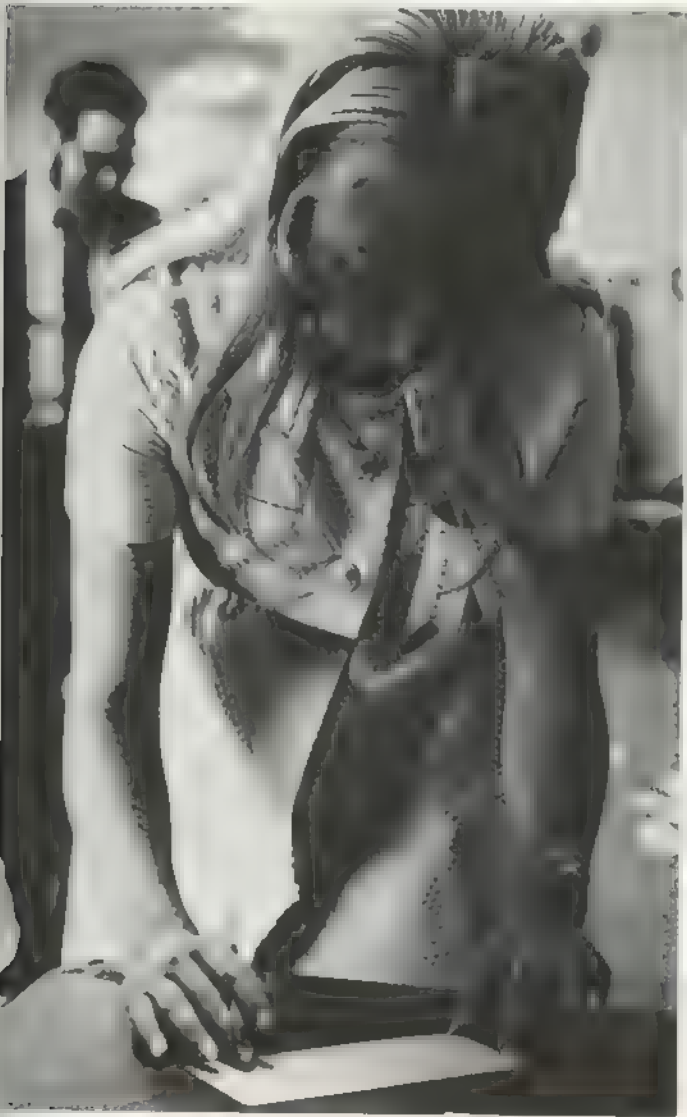

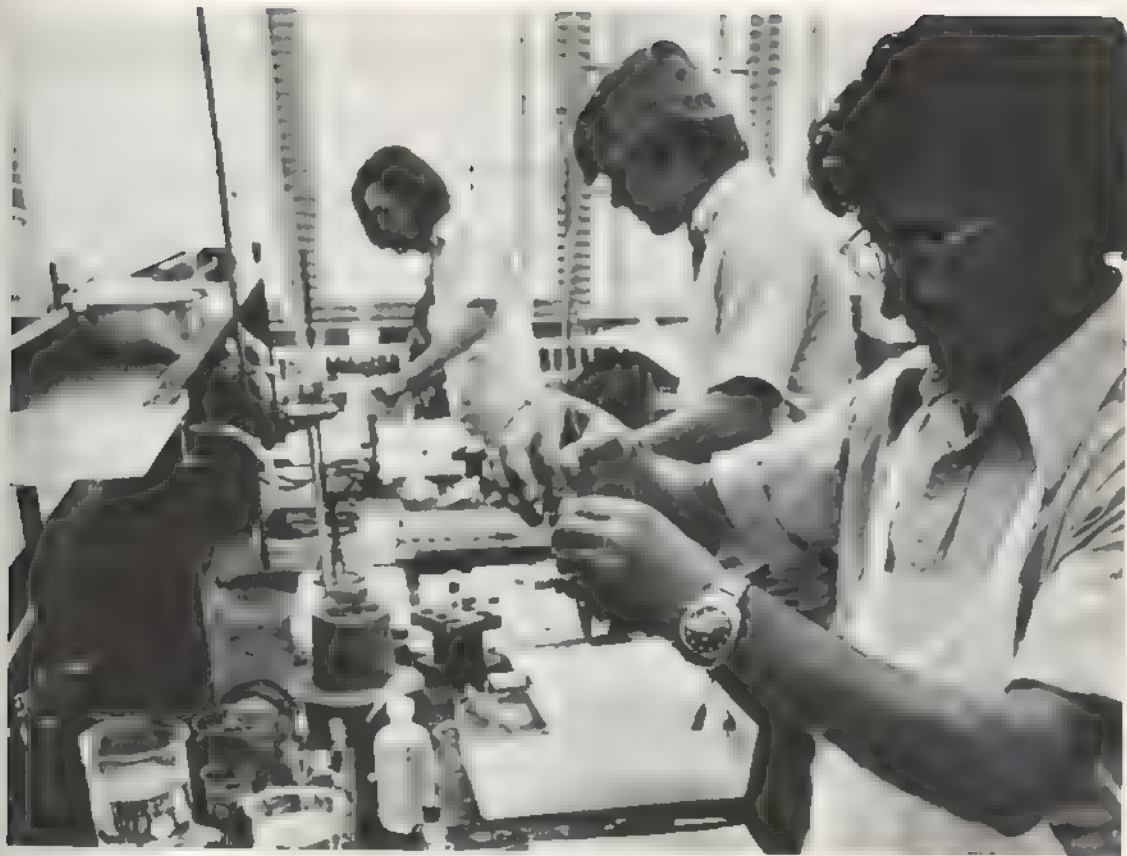

“Fun . . . fun . . . fun!”

“I really flagged that one . . . up the creek without a paddle . . . That’s a dilly and a half . . . right on . . . blew my mind . . . piggy hands . . . another pop quiz? . . . me study? . . . out of your mind . . . This mess stinks . . . This plus that equals explosion . . . Don’t get her . . . Is this what we are looking for? . . . I’m stuck . . . That test just wouldn’t wait . . . I’ve finally aced one . . .”

“Warriors are Dynamite!”

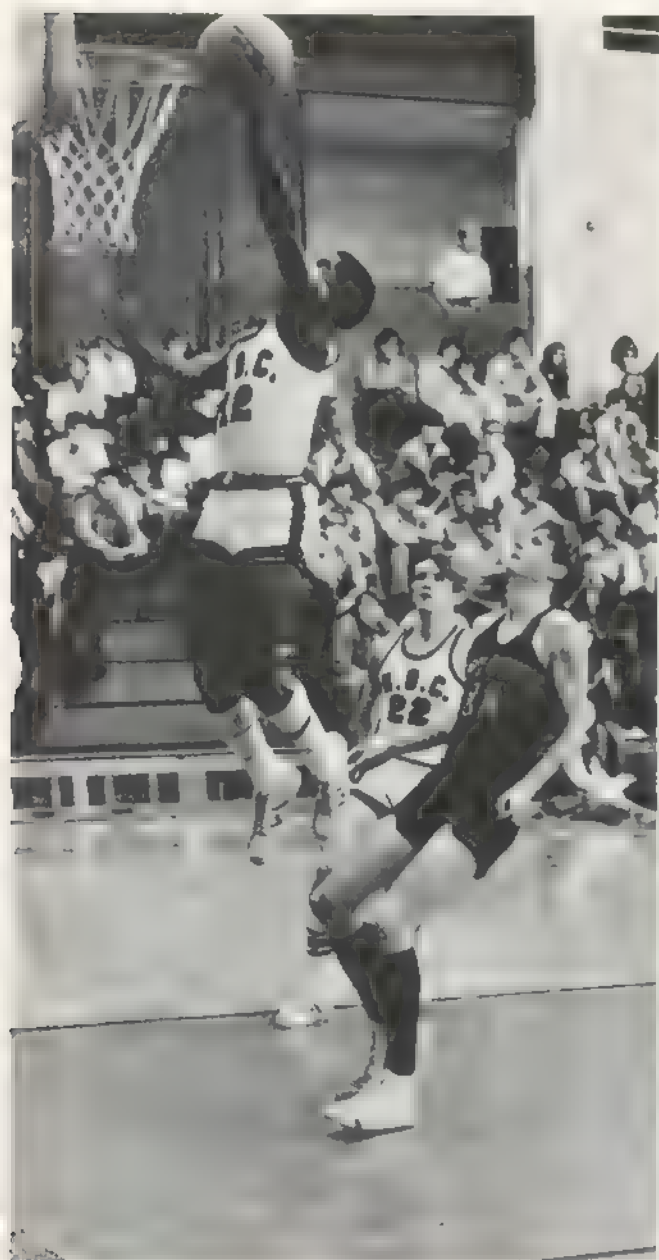

Pictured here are scenes from fall sports events. Men's intramural football enticed numerous students to test their skill, with the Indians taking the championship.

In addition, the women's basketball team, in its second year of existence, drew large crowds of spectators to Morris Gym and took their skills with them for out-of-town competition with various other colleges.

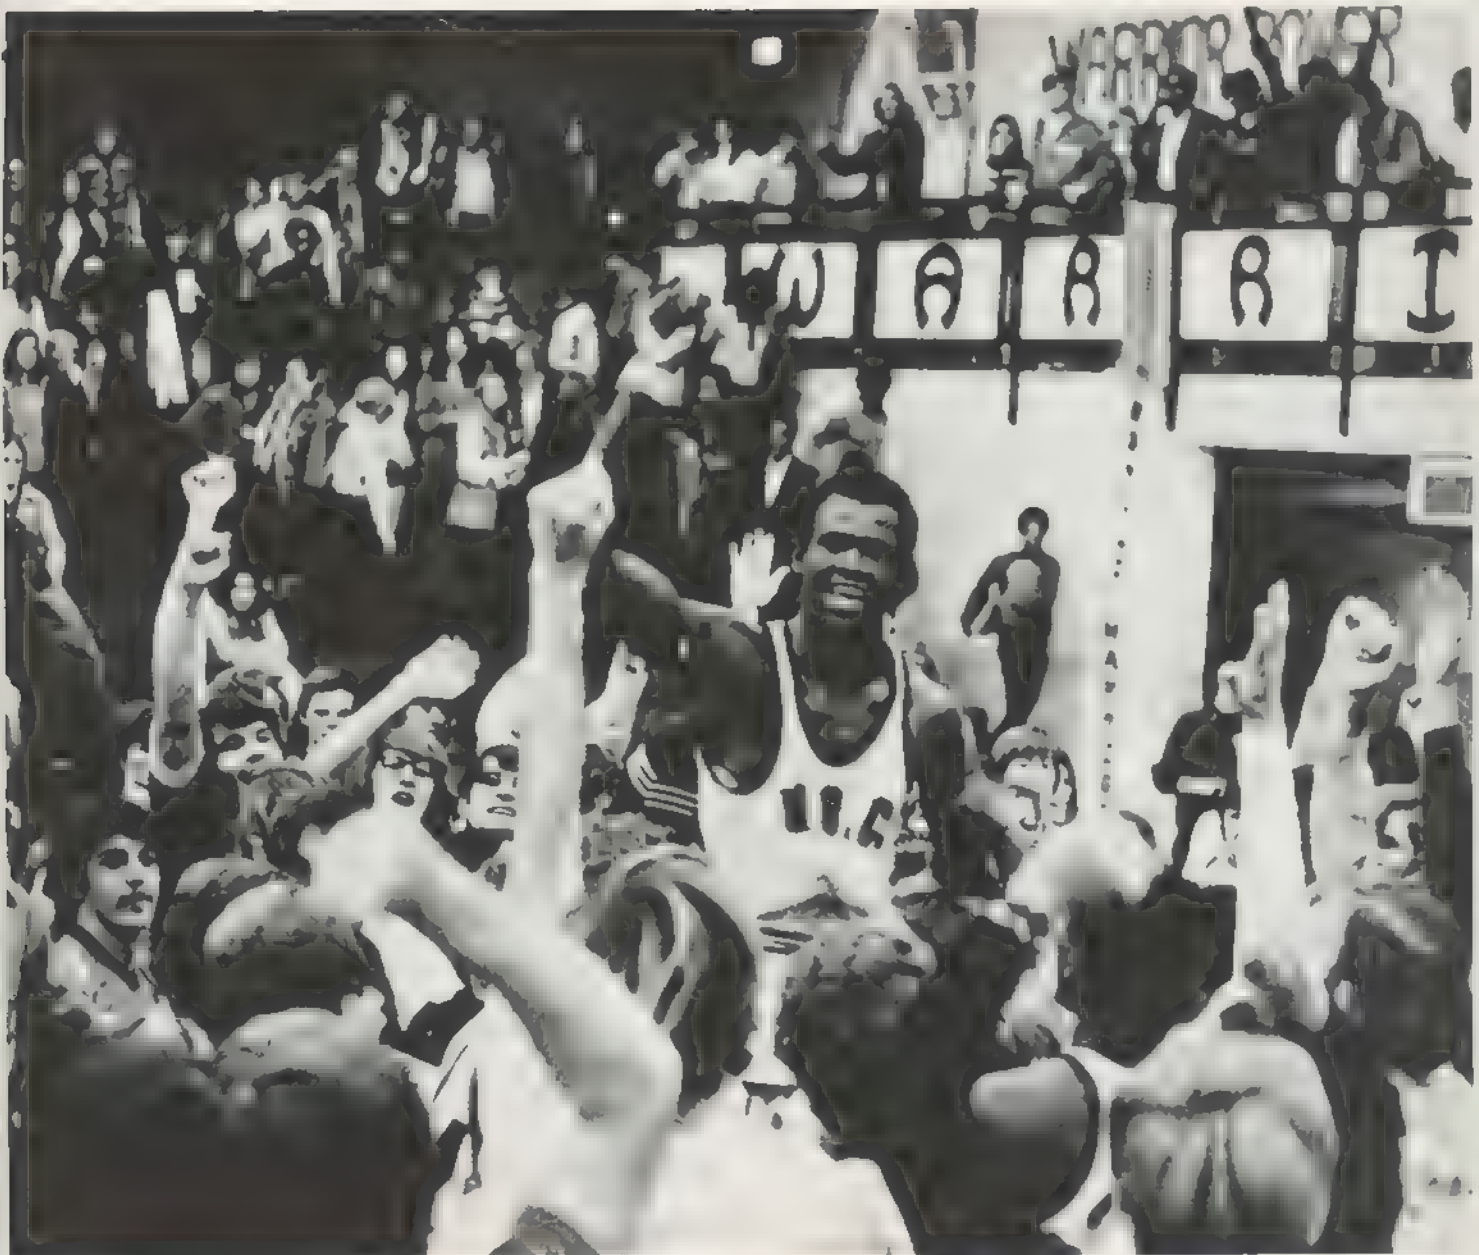

This year the newly-formed soccer team sparked interest on campus. The team had a very successful year for a first attempt.

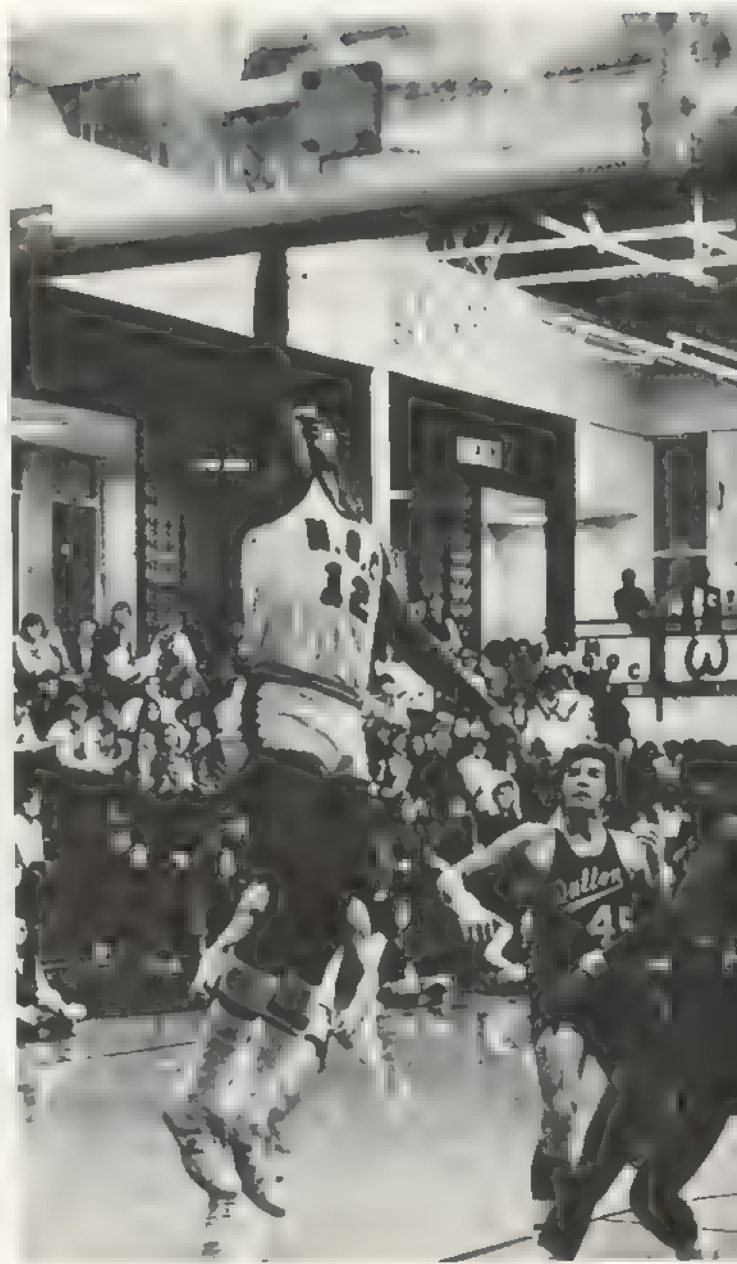

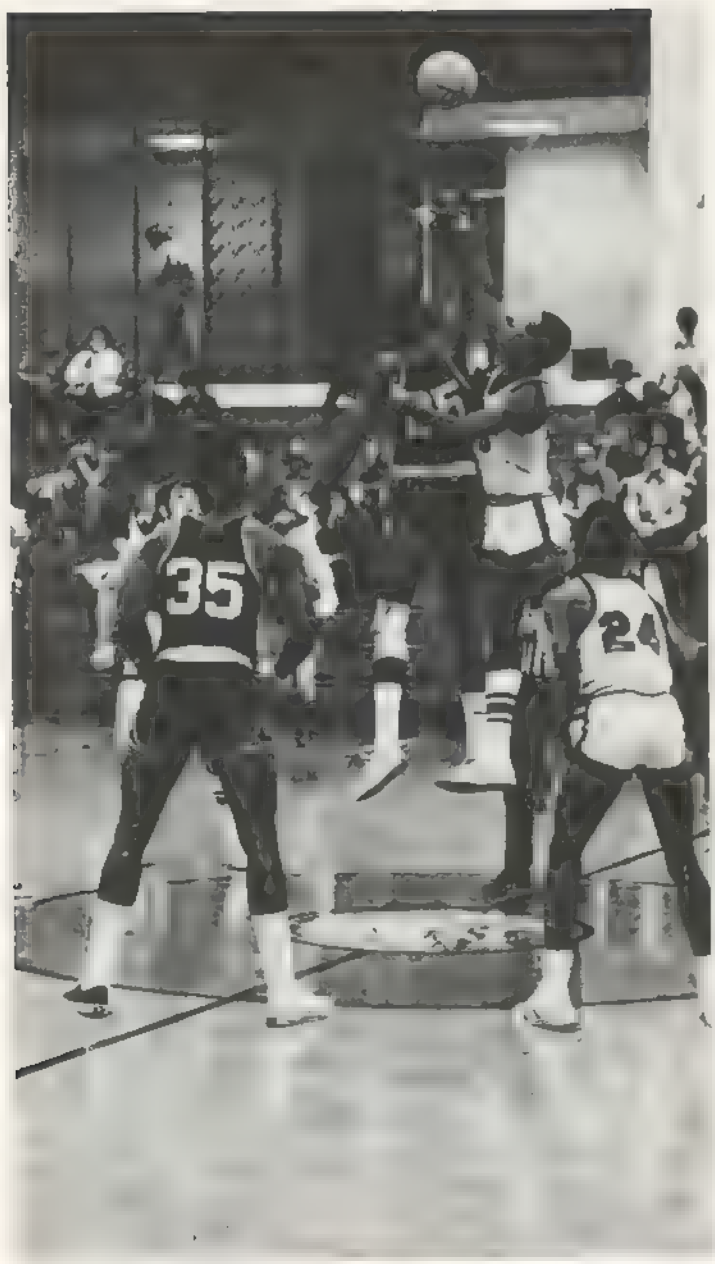

“We’re big, We’re bad . . .

... and We're boss!"

"Rip 'em up . . .
Tear 'em up . . .
Burn 'em up Warriors!"

"Lady Warriors, Keep it alive!"

This year school spirit for the Warriors ran high. During the basketball season, the Presidents Club held a drive to encourage school spirit at the men and women's games. The club members put posters in almost all of the buildings on campus, encouraging supporting the teams. By the end of the season, enthusiasm was at its peak.

BUS STOP Production by Midga Players

BUS STOP, Midga Players' fall production, was a smashing hit. A hilarious comedy about a feuding couple and those they meet in a street-corner restaurant in a small town west of Kansas City, the play featured Joan Rumph and Steve Cignarella in the lead roles, with Melody Ruff, Marian Chappell, Derry Crosby, Gary Hess, Vaughn Clark, and Dale Smith in supporting roles.

Preceding the first performance of the play, Terry Kay, Drama Critic for the ATLANTA JOURNAL, spoke in Russell Hall Auditorium. Both the play and Mr. Kay's lecture were part of the official opening of Russell Hall, as was an art exhibit by Thelma Fowler of Dublin.

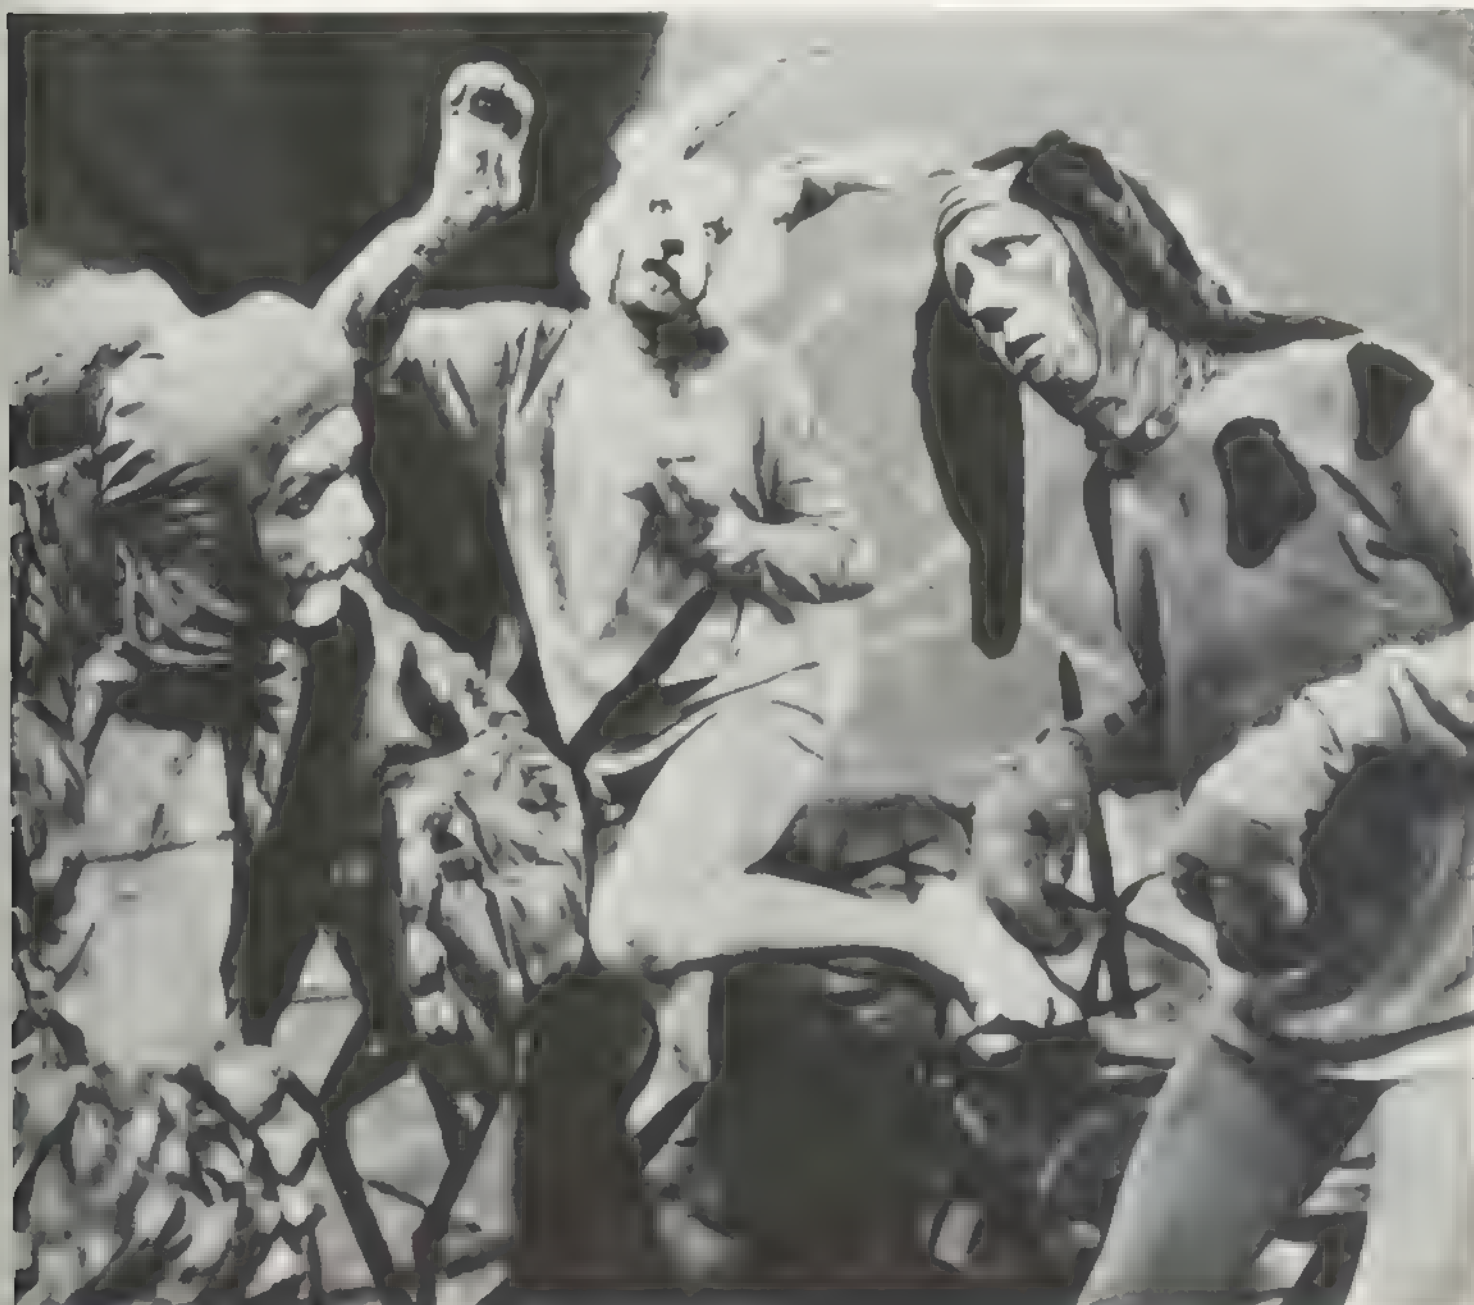

Everyman Players

A novel stage production of Aesop's fable, "The Tortoise and the Hare," was presented by the Everyman Players on November 11. Since the American premiere of this play in 1967, the production has travelled New England, the Midwest and Southwest, as well as Italy, Holland, and Britain. Reviewers have praised the production as theater for both adults and children.

A brilliant combination of music, mime, and animal characterizations, the production was worth seeing for the costumes and make-up alone. For example, the Tortoise took two hours to apply make-up and then donned a twenty-pound shell of fiberglass.

Homecoming '71

Homecoming week got underway when enthusiastic students began decorating the dorms and building floats for the parade. Each dorm competed for the prize which was given for having the best decoration, and many clubs entered floats hoping that theirs might win prize money. With these decorations all over campus, the homecoming spirit at its peak, it was easy to see what everyone wanted — Beat the Pacers from Aiken, South Carolina.

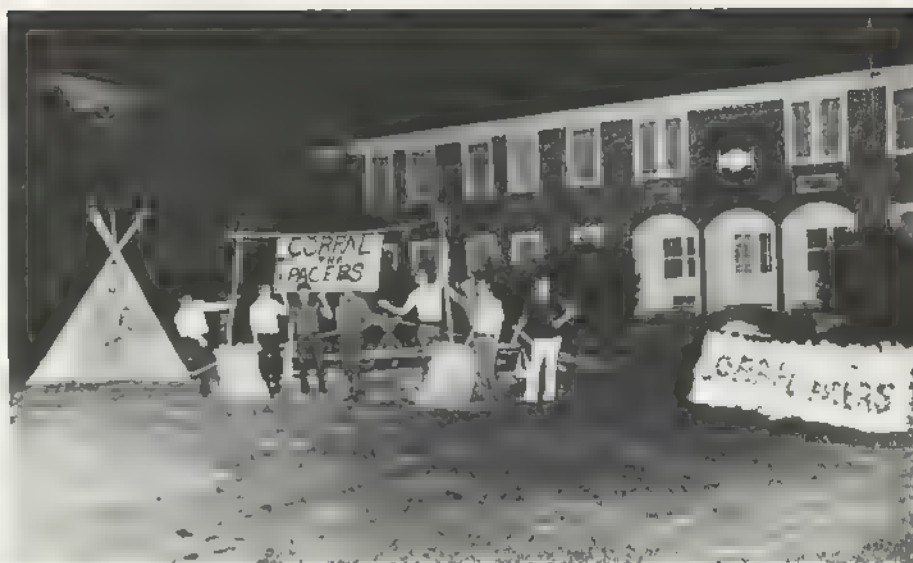

To start the Homecoming celebration on Friday was a parade which progressed from downtown Cochran to the campus. All campus organizations and local school bands participated in the parade. It was enjoyed by the residents of Cochran as well as the students of MGC.

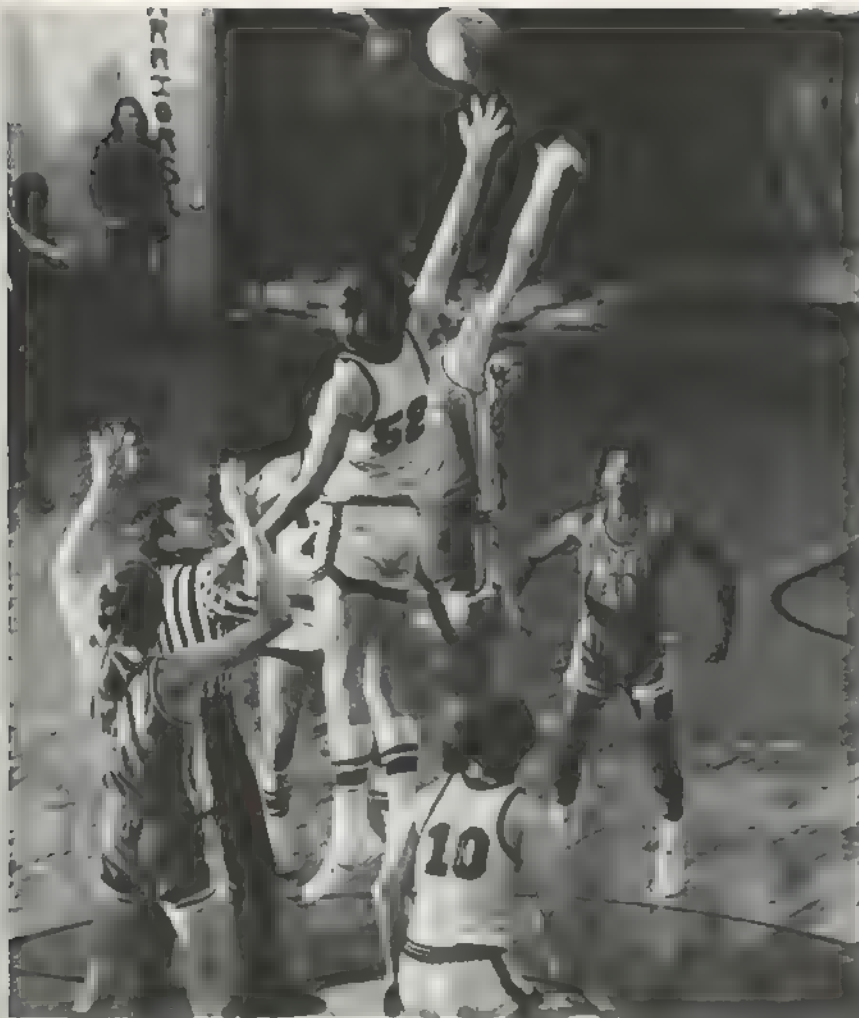

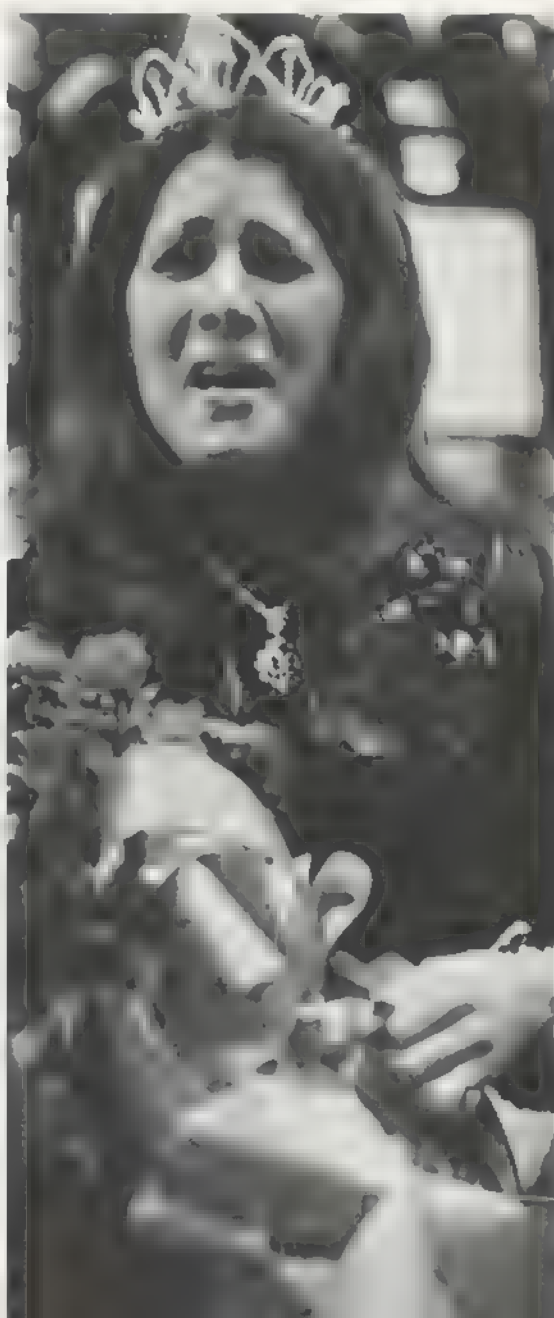

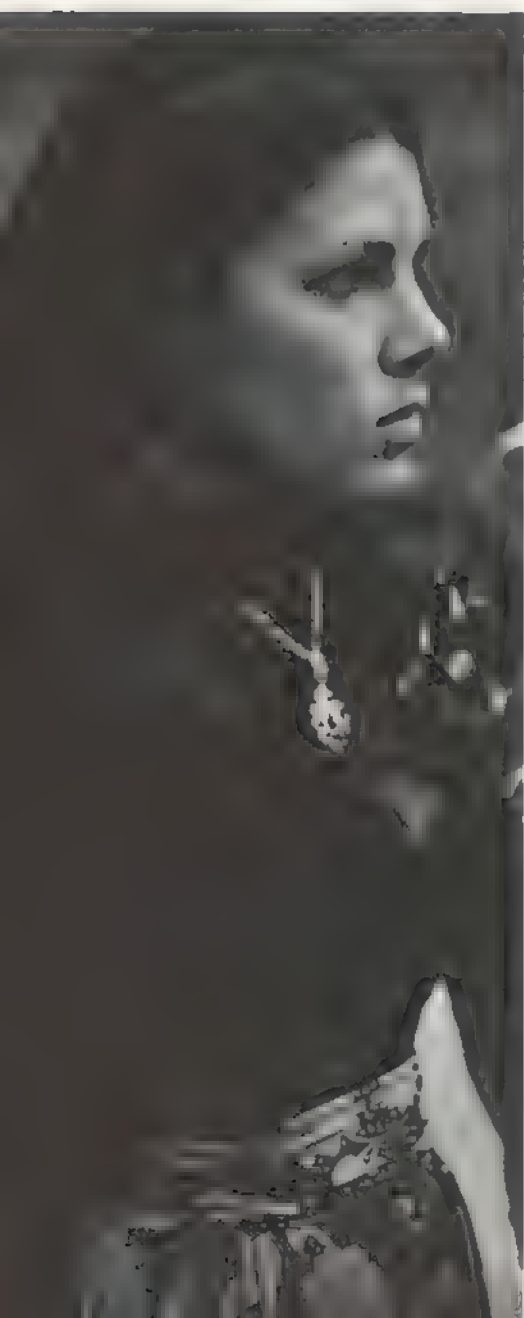

At the half-time intermission of an exciting game with the University of South Carolina at Aiken, Peacock Dorm and East Men's Hall were announced winners of the dorm decoration and float competition by Jimmy Hamilton, Chairman of Homecoming festivities. At the dance the following night, the queen and runners-up, chosen by popular vote of MGC students, were announced. After presenting the court, Jimmy announced Vera Wingfield as Freshman Maid of Honor, Thea Laine McKendree as first runner-up to the Queen, and Twinkle Starr as the 1971 Homecoming Queen. After this announcement, Hamilton, Joe, Frank, and Reynolds entertained at the dance.

Activities, Initiations, Awards

"Here Is My Life" — the theme of the BSU's Super Weekend fall quarter — was portrayed by a skit performed by club members and a Sing-Out featuring BSU singing groups.

According to tradition, Phi Theta Kappa initiated outstanding scholars into its membership. New members are shown here signing the roster.

Also pictured here is Artie Tillman receiving the Engineering Club's affiliation with the Georgia Society of Professional Engineers. Middle Georgia's chapter won the distinction of being the first Engineering Club in Georgia to receive this affiliation.

Wesley Foundation's Karate Exhibition also drew interest in the fall.

Christmas Festivities

To celebrate the Yule season, the Presidents Club and the Women's Judiciary Council held their traditional Christmas parties at the home of Miss Swinson and Dean Willham. In addition, Quintas Stellas, along with several other clubs on campus, held Christmas parties for children in the Cochran area. These children enjoyed refreshments and new toys.

Yuletide Spirit

No Christmas season would be complete without a Christmas tree, so the Student Activities Committee, headed by Jim Hornsby, labored many hours to put up a beautiful tree outside of Georgia Hall. At the tree lighting, the BSU Choir presented a program of music, and Dr. Alderman addressed the gathering of students.

Individually, students showed holiday spirit by decorating their rooms in the dorms.

And then . . .

there were exams.

Another beginning . . .

with winter quarter registration.

Tests . . . tutors . . . observations.

Students taking courses of education were required to observe classes in the Cochran schools for one week. At Christmas time the SGAE club gave a party to children whom they had been working with in special education at the school.

Middle Georgia College students took the rising junior test during winter quarter and scored higher than any other school in the university system. The competency score of MGC was 92% compared to the average score of 90%.

For several years, the title of Miss Hilltopper has been bestowed on the girl that a panel of impartial judges decided best represented the ideal young woman — beautiful, personable, intelligent, and active in the affairs of her school.

This year the Miss Hilltopper tea, at which the judges interviewed the contestants who had been nominated by various organizations on the campus, was held on January 10 in the President's Dining Room of Georgia Hall. Judges included Leslie Kicklighter, President of the Presidents' Club; Dr. William H. McCammon, Professor of Education and Psychology; Miss Judy McDonald, Instructor of Home Economics; Mrs. Charles Neal from Warner Robins; and Mrs. Bobby Smith, a former Miss Alaska from Warner Robins.

Following a delightful tea hosted by the Hilltopper staff, the contestants were quizzed on issues ranging from women's liberation to the Vietnamese war. The panel then selected Miss Diane Forehand, a sophomore from Cochran, as Miss Hilltopper. First runner-up was Miss Sarah Striplin from Forsyth with second runner-up Pam Stokes from Warner Robins. Third runner-up was Vicki Smith from Forsyth. These winners were announced and presented flowers at Honors Day in May.

"I Do! I Do!", Flamenco in Concert, The Spurrllows

During winter and spring quarters, a variety of cultural programs delighted MGC students. Brought back by popular demand from the preceding years, Jack and Sally Jenkins gave a superb performance in the uproariously funny Broadway musical, "I DO, I DO!"

Then Teodore and Isabel Morca thrilled their audience with their flashing movements in a Flamenco concert. This concert was the first of its kind to be presented on the campus, and students received it quite well.

But perhaps the favorite was the Spurrllows. This group of young people provided its own music — displaying skill on several instruments — and rendered unusual versions of many types of music from soul to religious spirituals.

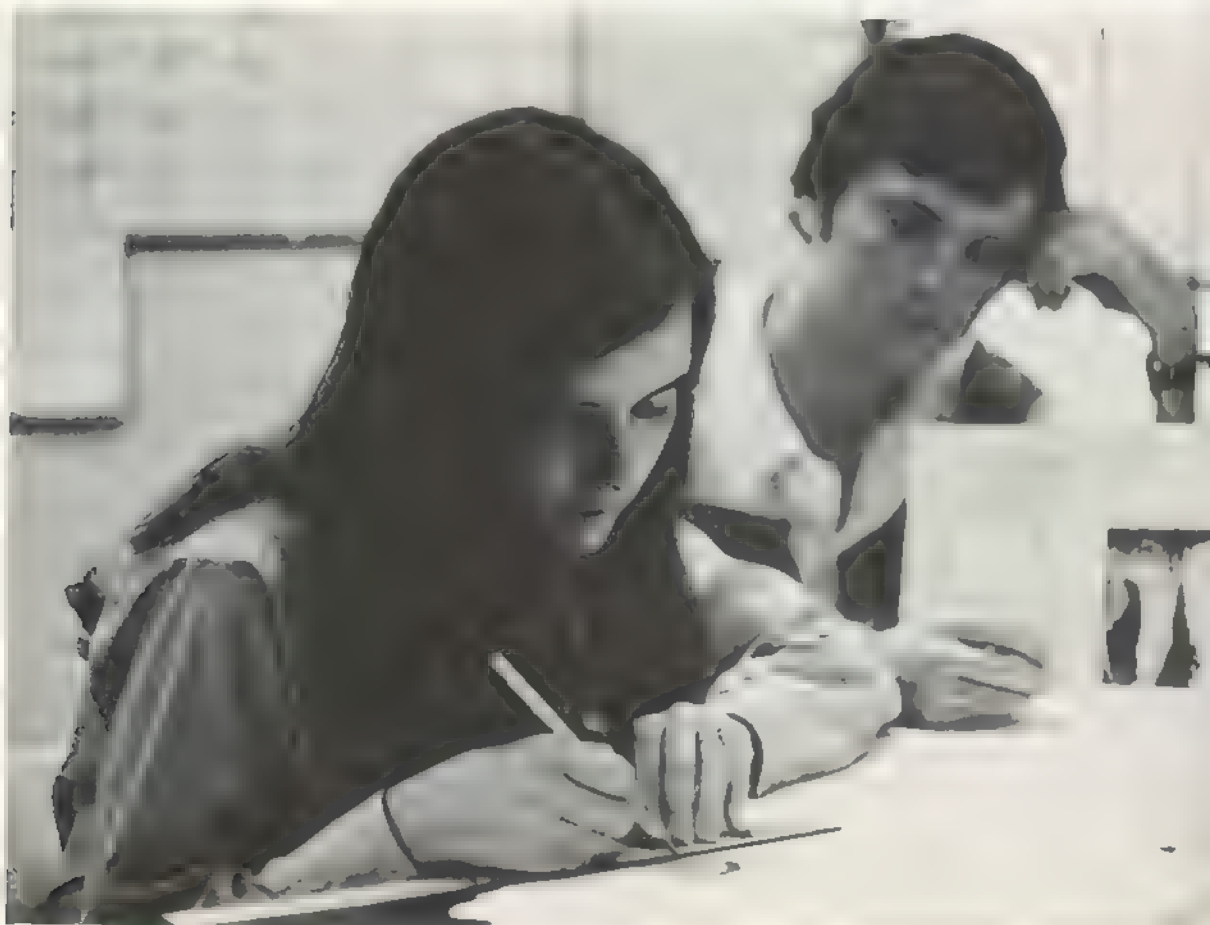

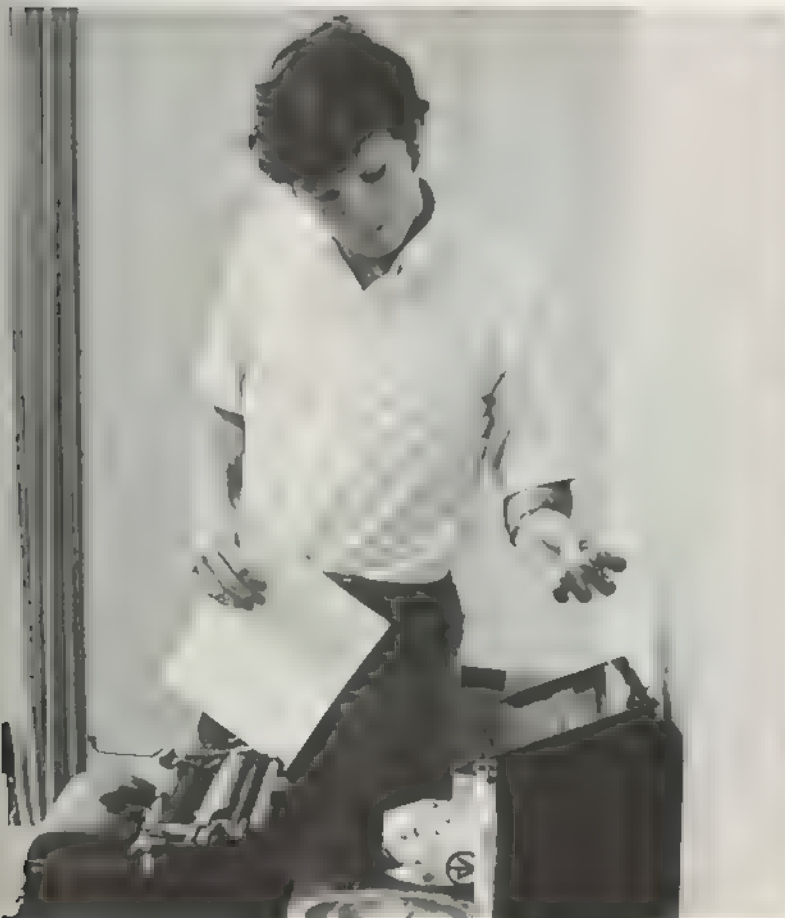

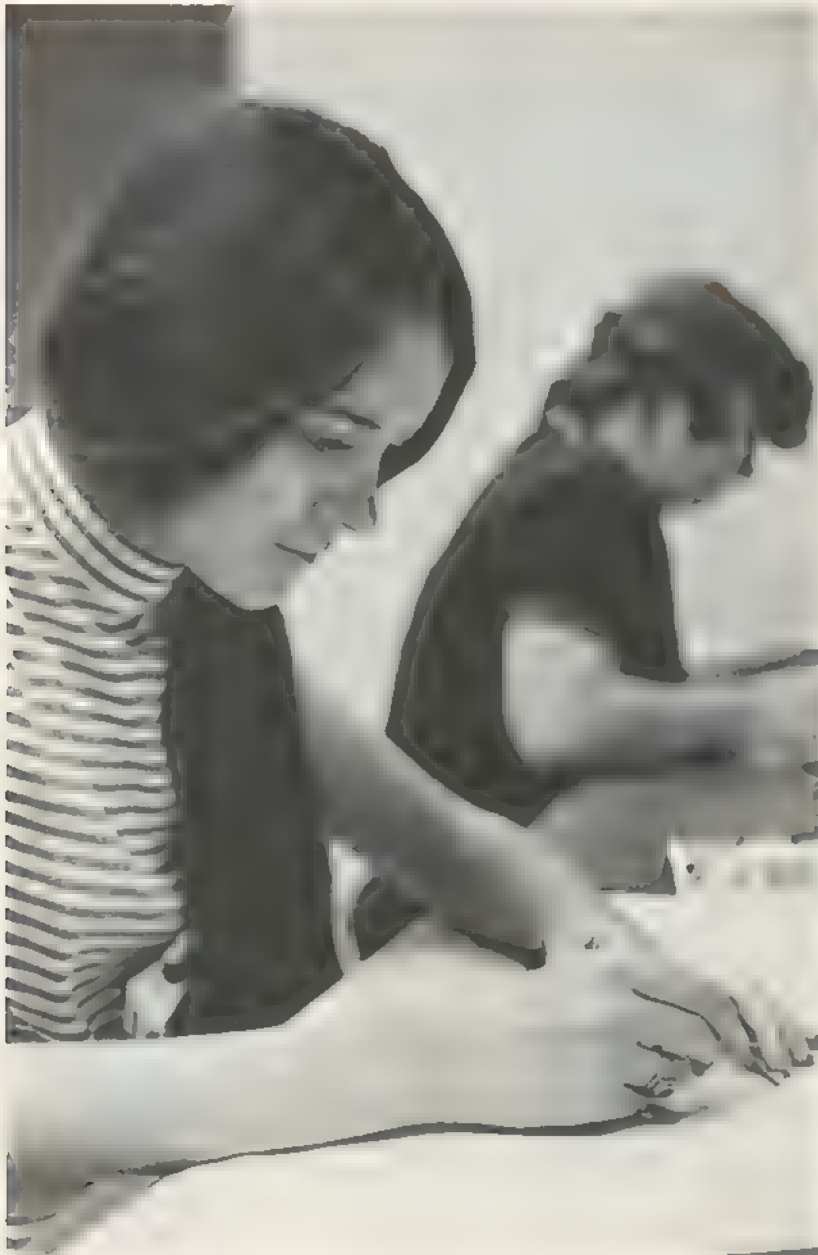

Hard Work . . .

Three publications — KERNEL, MUSES, and HILLTOPPER — are published at MGC for students and by students. This year the KERNEL staff produced outstanding newspapers; in fact, the paper won the Georgia Collegiate Press Association Award for Best Campus News Coverage. The staff, under the direction of advisor Mr. Hinton and editor Steve Shirley, kept students abreast of campus events and feeling through news stories, editorials, opinion polls, and pictorial coverage of activities.

For the first time this year, MUSES, the literary magazine, featured the musical score of a hymn and a haiku written for drums. The cover featured the winning oil portrait. This year there were two art categories for competition: one for art majors and one for non-majors. In addition, photography entries were judged separately from art entries. The staff, headed by editor Mary Ann Leaptrot and advisor Mrs. Bridges, distributed the magazines in May.

. . . tedious layouts
. . . nerve-racking
deadlines.

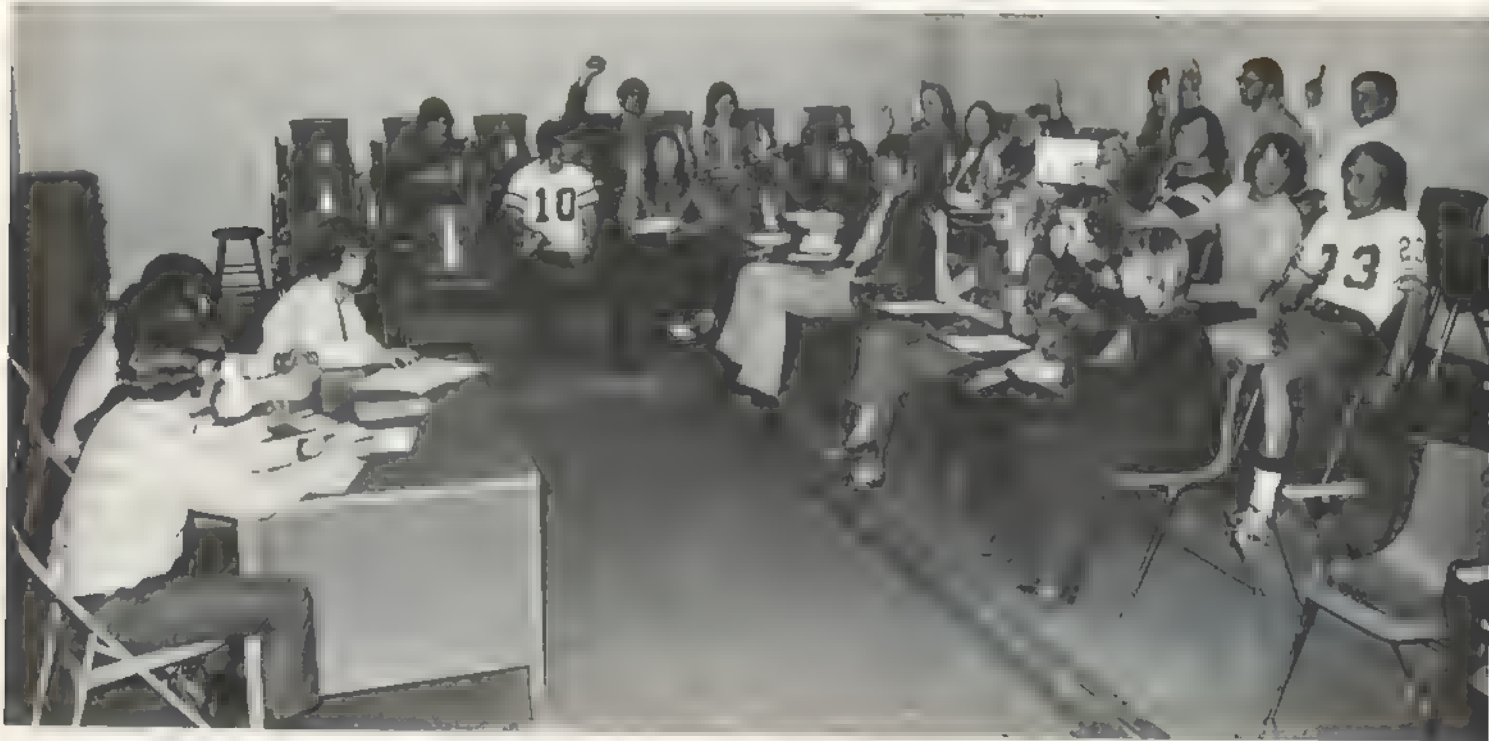

The HILLTOPPER staff, headed by Mary Jo Brantley and sponsored by Mrs. Odom and Mrs. Kesling, produced a fall book for the first time. The staff worked hard planning for this "first." Most of the pictures were taken by student photographers.

Besides producing the HILLTOPPER, the staff sponsored a tea to select an all-round girl to represent the yearbook. Judging was based upon beauty, poise, personality, scholastic achievement, and extracurricular activities. Diane Forehand exhibited these qualities and was crowned Miss Hilltopper on May 10.

Group Service and Government

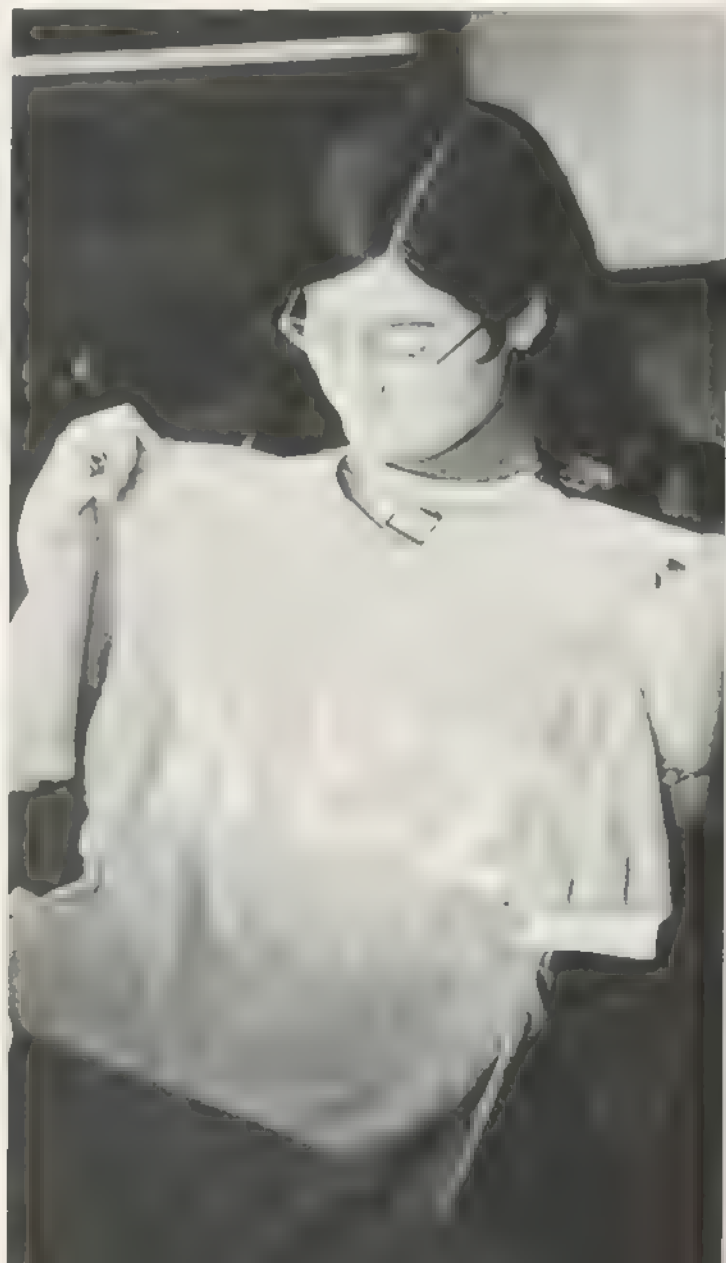

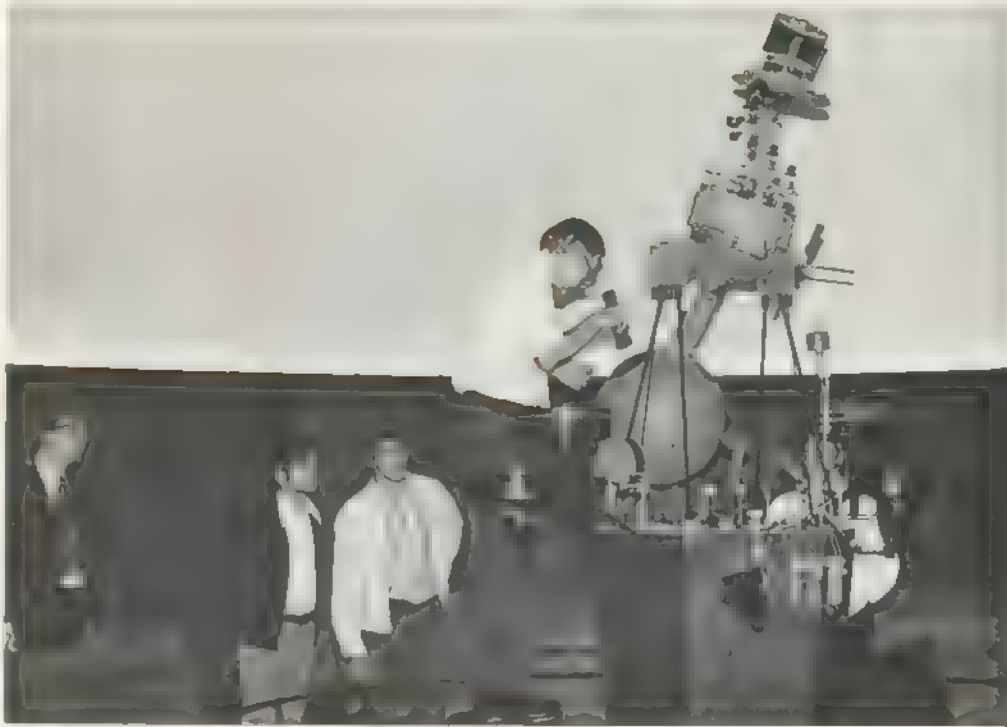

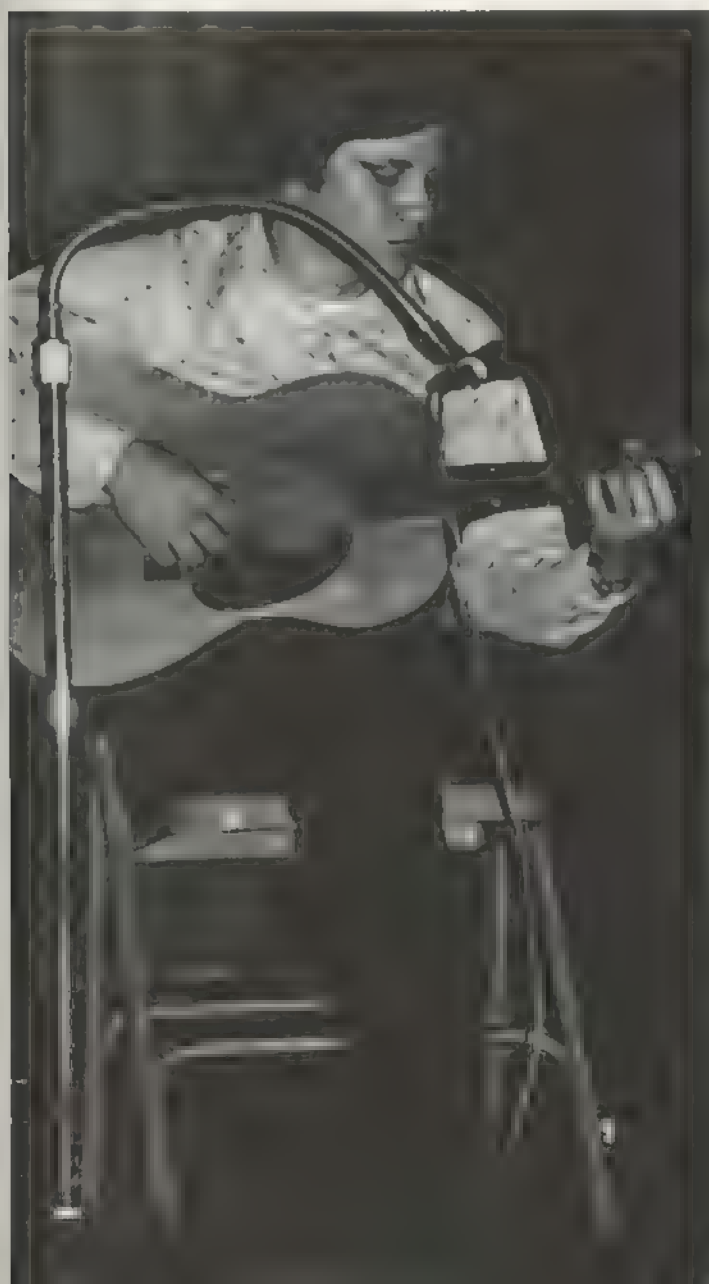

The Student Council, Civitan, and the Student Activities Committee were the leaders at MGC this year. The Student Council brought changes in women's curfews, the Student Activities Committee entertained with popular bands and movies, and the Civitan assisted the county in getting blood donations on campus. Vespers were held each Wednesday night for students of all denominations.

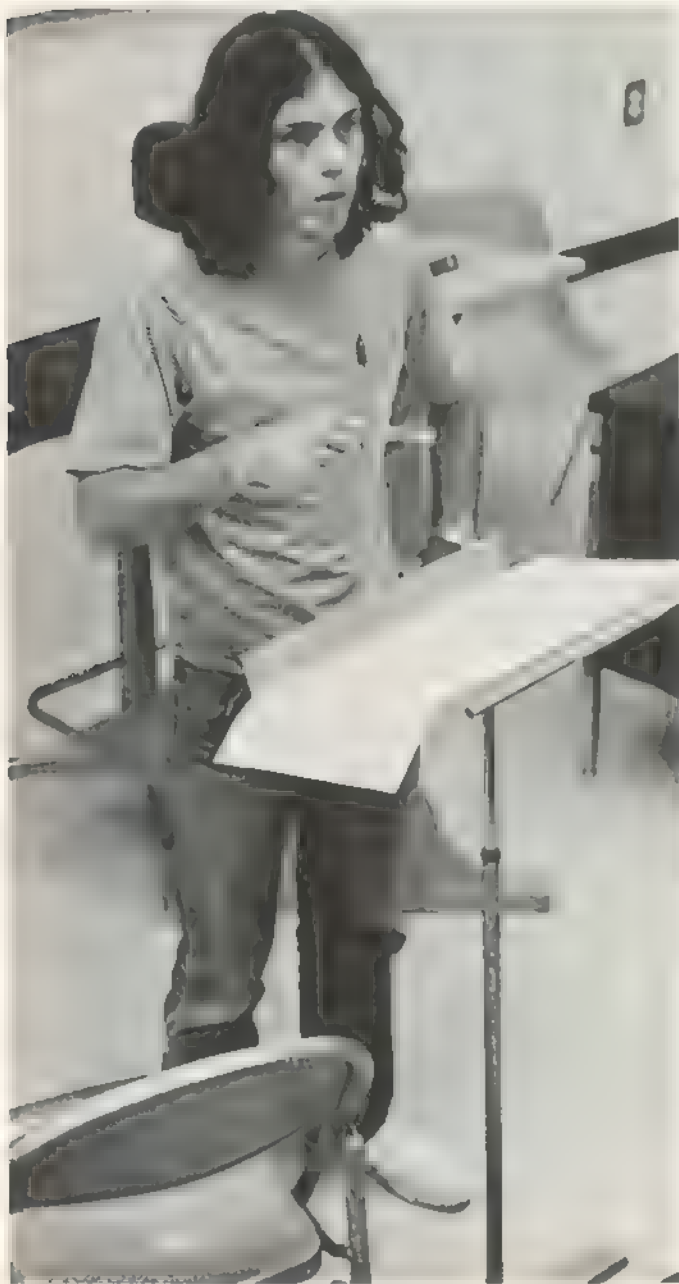

In October the Kappa Epsilon Sigma, sponsored by Dr. Bean, enjoyed a behind the scenes tour of Mark Smith Planetarium in Macon.

Each year the Phi Theta Kappa, composed of honor students, sponsors a talent show. This year the club, under the direction of Mr. Cravey, presented an interesting show with many talented students. Sweetness and Light entertained the crowd with folk music and captured the first place prize of twenty-five dollars.

"We Believe in Music."

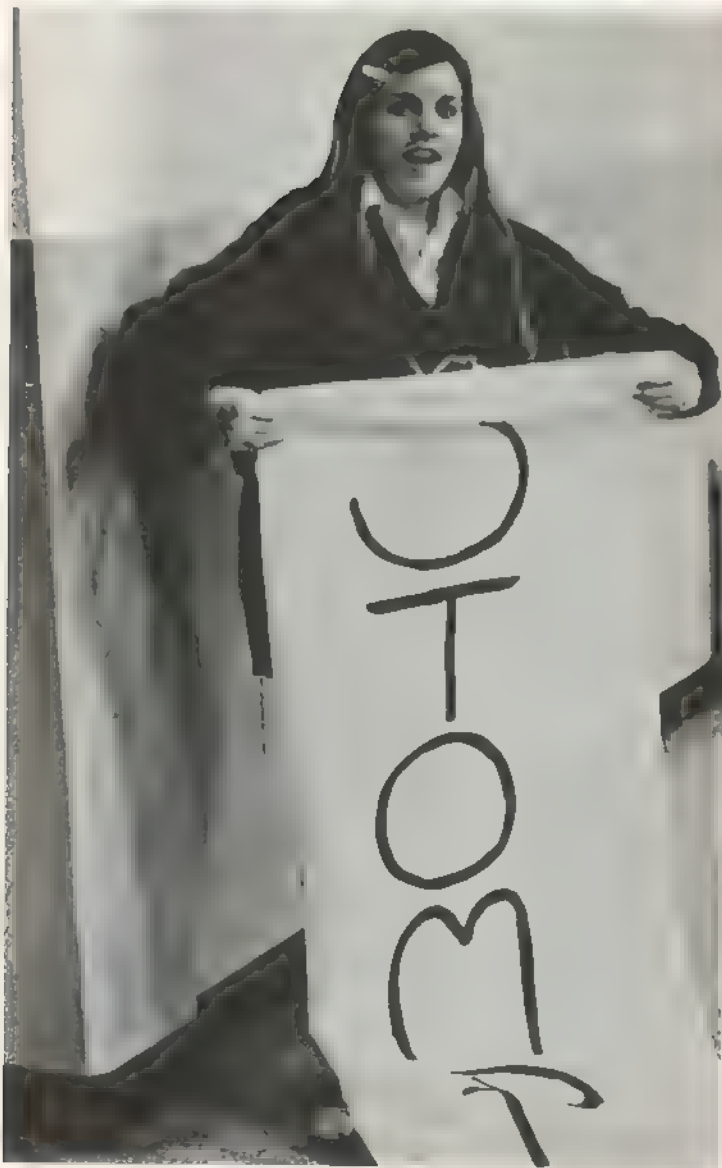

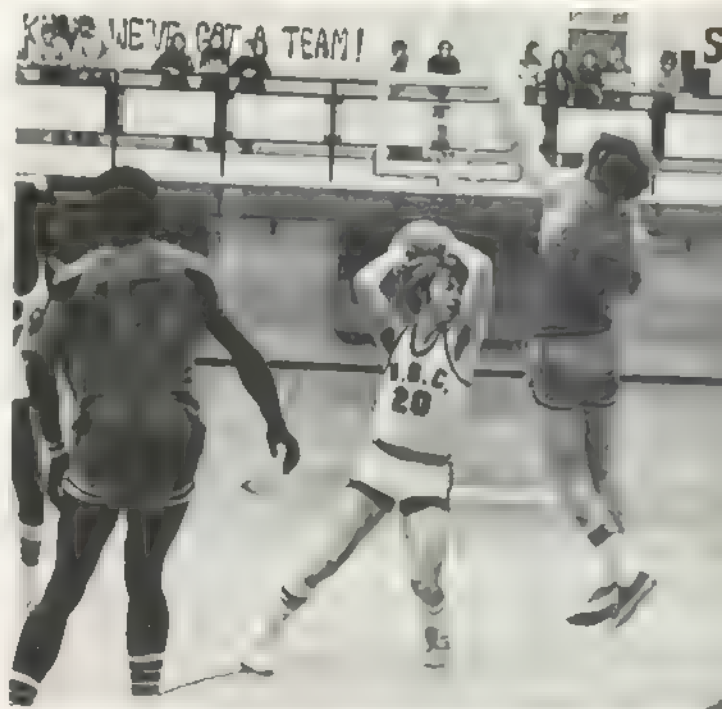

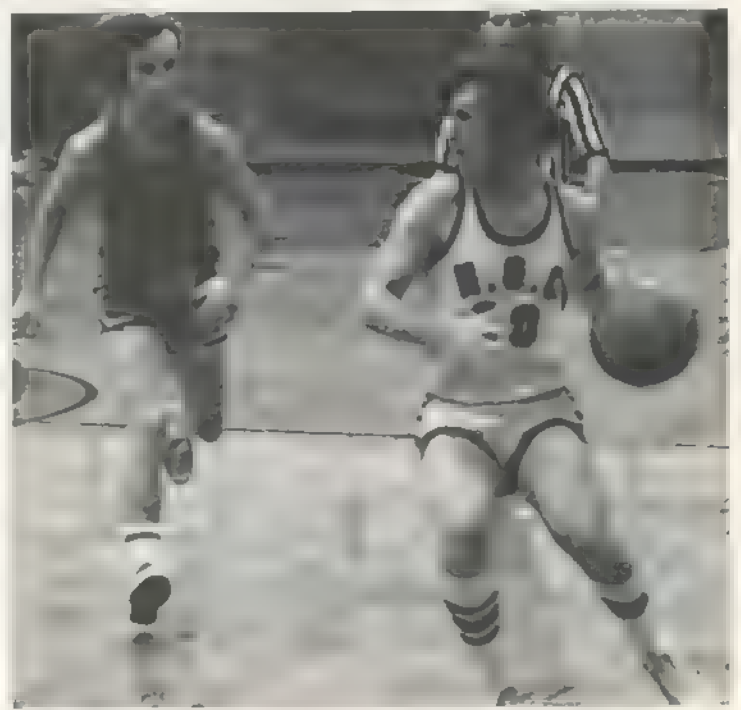

A contralto running a scale, a sax player blaring forth resonant tones, a pianist doggedly mastering a Bach fugue — these were familiar sounds in Russell Hall. Three groups — the Choir, Stageband, and Ensemble — practiced constantly to perfect numbers for presentation at various college events, concerts, and community meetings. Road trips for these groups were times for learning poise, making new acquaintances, and training in group cooperation.

"Beat the Warriors? Ain't no Way!!"

During fall and winter quarters, billiards and basketball were two popular pastimes. When the old co-op in Walker Hall was replaced with the new Georgia Hall, billiard tables were placed in the old co-op for student use; these quickly became favorites with the students. In addition, men and women alike found stiff competition in intramural sports; this program offered students a personal opportunity to participate in physical improvement and team effort to win.

Winter Sports

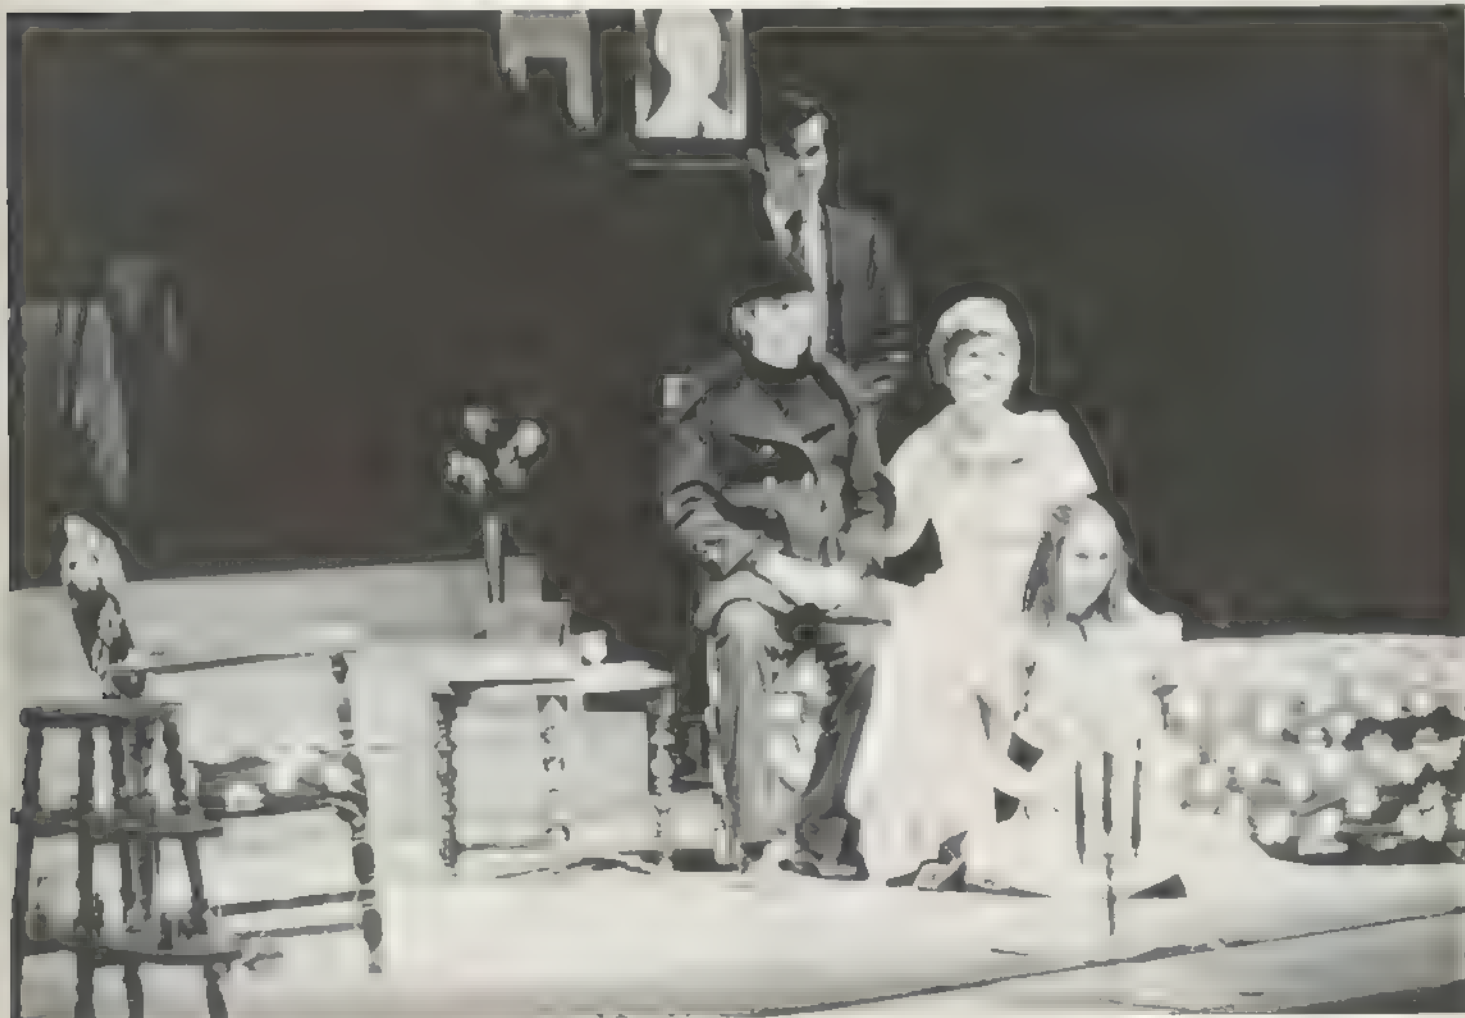

THE GLASS MENAGERIE

Midga Players' production of THE GLASS MENAGERIE by Tennessee Williams was a great success. The cast featured Miss Pat Smith as the mother, Leon Alligood as her son, Melody Ruff as her daughter, and Bob Burton as the gentleman caller.

Living in a world of illusion, the characters seek escape from reality. The high point in the lives of this family is the visit of the gentleman caller. He brings out the "truth" in each character. Amanda displays her hypocrisy, Tom tells the caller how he really feels about himself and his situation, and Laura is lifted out of herself and manages to get along nicely with Jim. The turning point, however, occurs when Jim explains he cannot date Laura because he is already engaged. When he leaves, the world of illusion which Amanda and Laura have striven to create in order to make life bearable crashes around them. Tom, too, at the end of his tether, at last leaves home.

Miss Sweetheart

SUSAN WHALEY

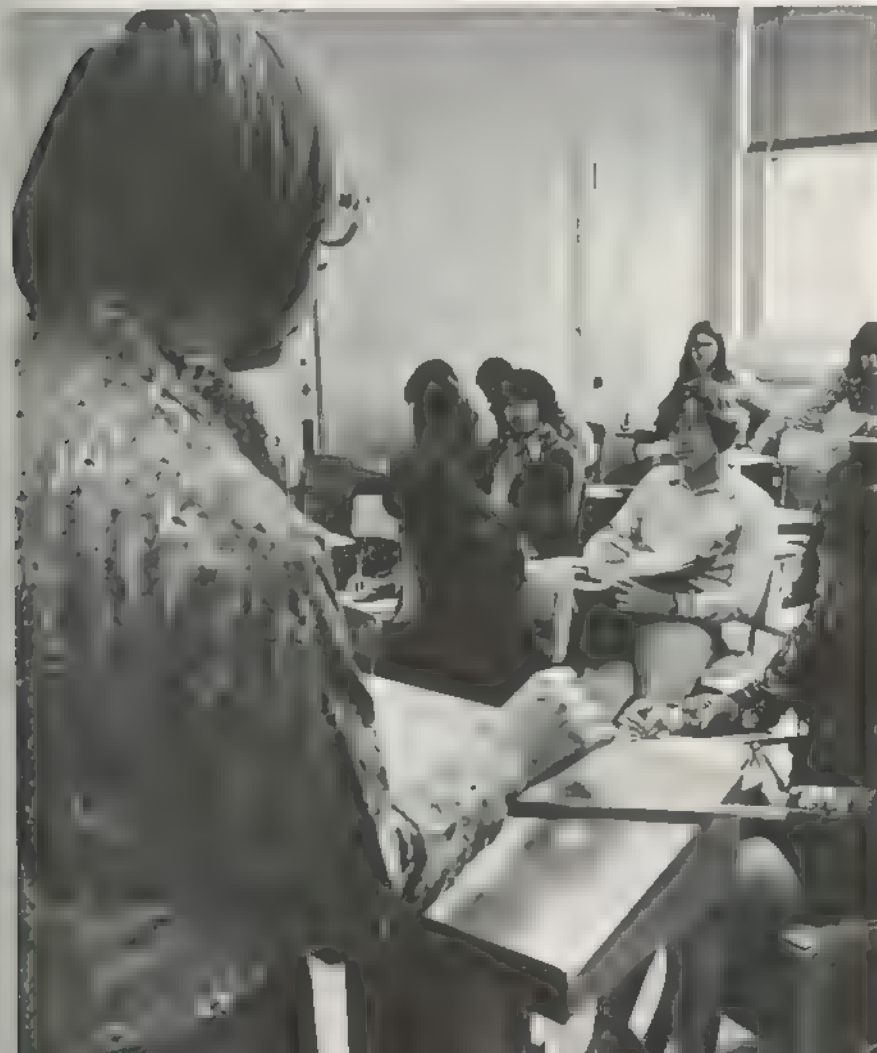

This year the Student Activities Committee featured Liberation at the annual Valentine's Dance. During the half-time intermission Cindy Floyd introduced the Freshmen girls competing for the Miss Sweetheart title: Joanna Archer, Cindy Hudson, Shelly Edwards, Susan Whaley, Pam Rulli, and Danelle Forehand. Shelly was announced the first runner-up and Susan was crowned Miss Sweetheart.

Education: Creator of Experimentation

Education — a process of interaction between instructor and student, learning by doing, achieving through involving oneself. Performing a lab experiment, researching a subject, painting a picture, reacting to a work of literature, mastering a musical composition, giving a speech — all are experiences the student encounters in developing his mind and talents.

Education: Ignorer of Age

This year, as in the past, many working students attended night classes at Middle Georgia College. These students commuted from surrounding towns, and they could usually be seen gathering together outside Walker Hall around six o'clock. They followed various curricula; some wanted to take courses solely for personal enrichment. Others needed college credits for job promotions and security. Still others wanted to refresh their knowledge of selected subjects.

In addition to these students, some regular day students chose to attend night classes. But each student found instructors, courses, and materials to suit his unique needs.

Miss Middle Georgia College Pageant

Cynthia Cook and Charlie Hill

Betsy Rowland

Cynthia Cook

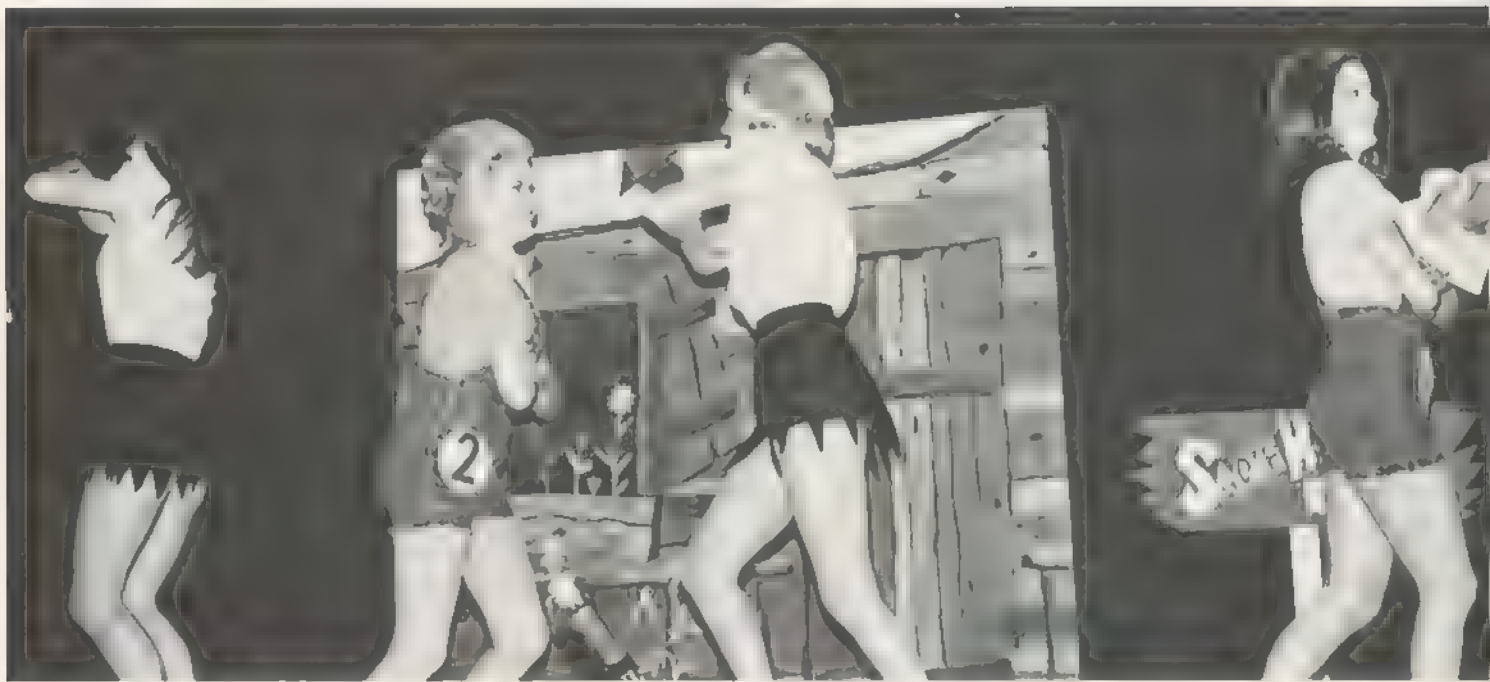

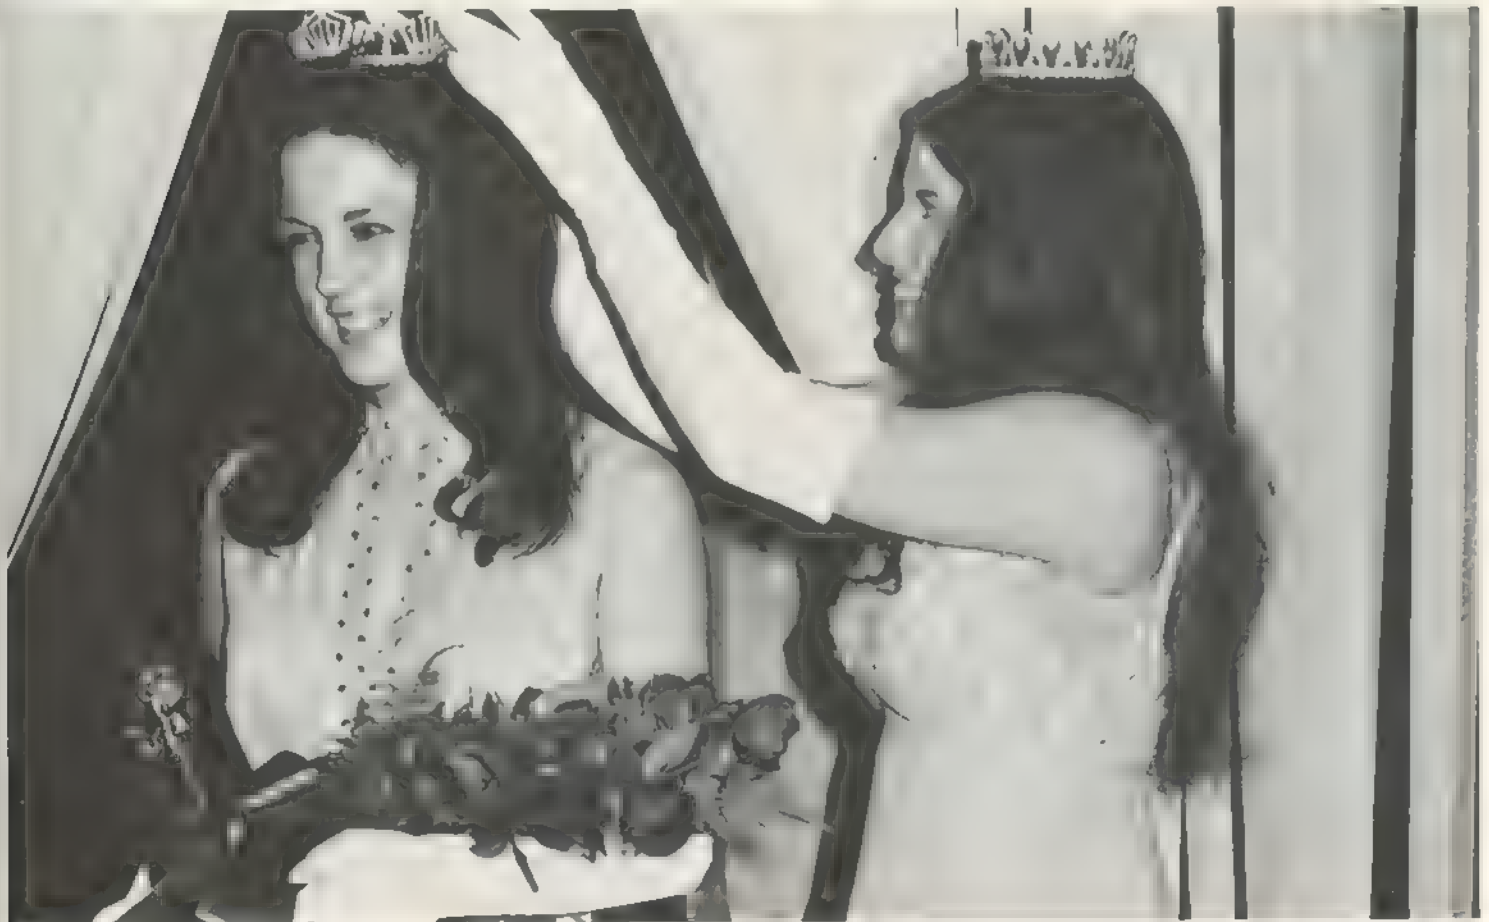

At the end of Winter Quarter a contest was held to choose Miss Middle Georgia College of 1972. Eight girls entered the contest as the first step on the road to the Miss America Pageant. Each contestant was judged in swimsuit, evening gown, and talent competition by a panel of five judges. Before the contest the judges met each girl individually at a tea. On hand for this annual event were Betsy Rowland, Miss Middle Georgia College of 1971, and the 1971 Miss Georgia, Cynthia Cook. Charlie Hill, Master of Ceremonies, announced Dianne Forehand of Cochran as second runner-up, Paulette Gay of Twin City as first runner-up, and Dot Meadows of Cochran as the new Miss Middle Georgia College.

Miss Middle Georgia College

DOT MEADOWS

The smile of victory.

Dot Meadows is the nineteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walker Meadows of Cochran, Georgia.

In high school she was active in 4-H Club and became state winner in 1969. She served as president on the local, district, and state levels. Also in high school, Dot won the Miss Cochran High School title and was salutatorian of her graduating class.

This year at MGC she was an active member of the Home Economics Club, Student Activities Committee, and Warriors Club, and played on the Lady Warriors' basketball team.

The dead of winter lifted . . .

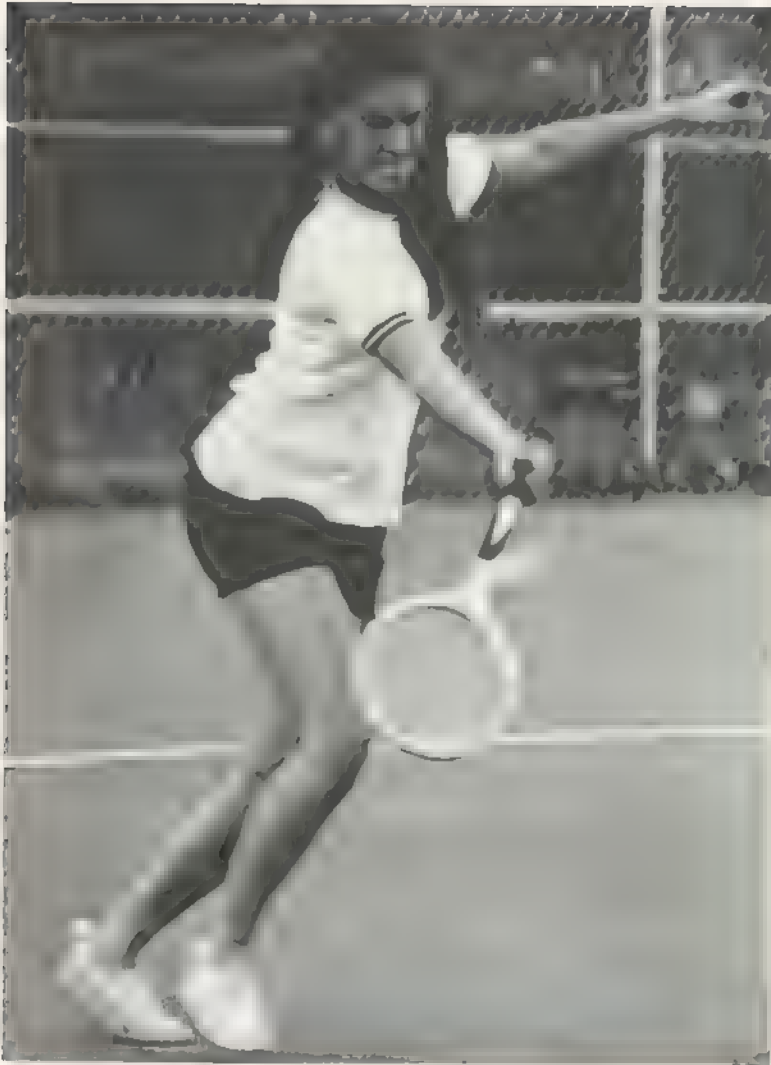

... and spring came.

Spring - environment, energy, emotions.

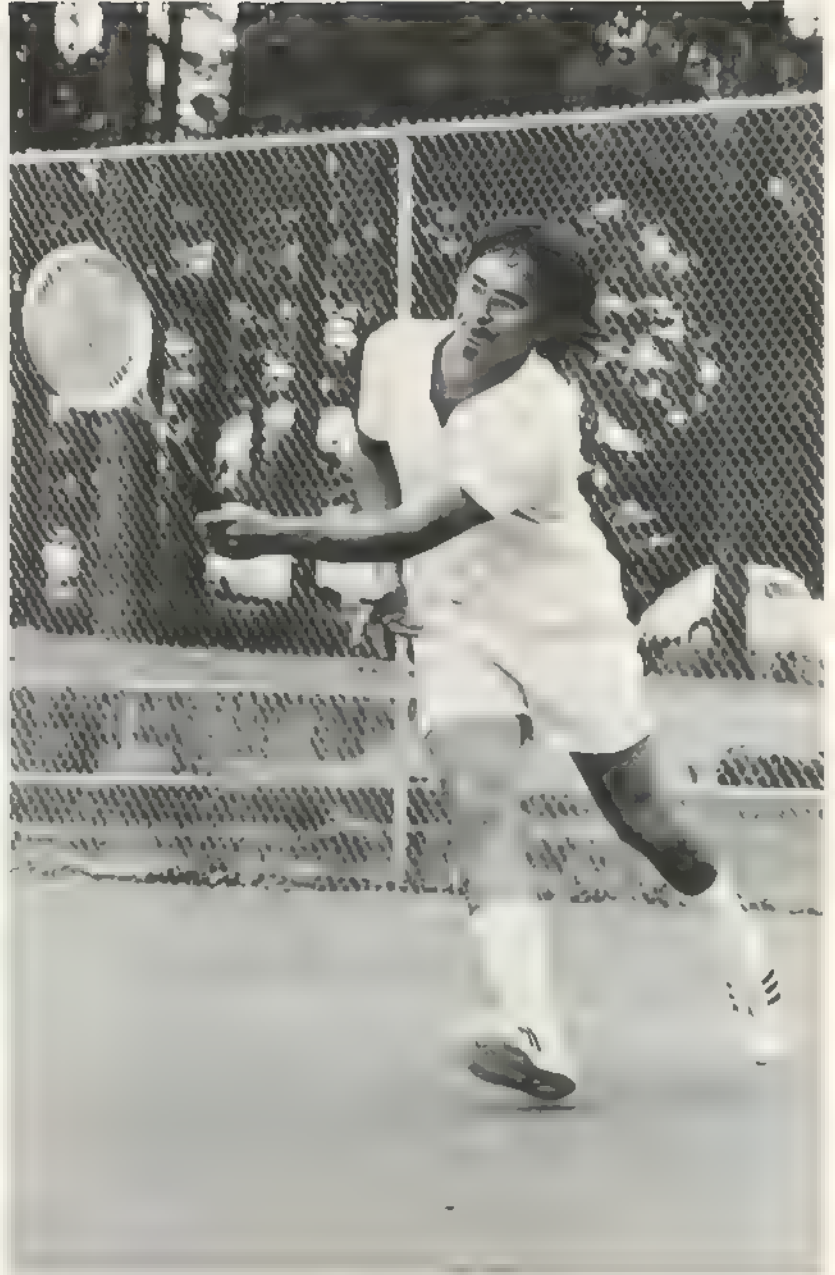

Spring quarter meant the return of popular bands, such as the Kudzu pictured above; more work for the Student Activities Committee in planning end-of-the-year fun; lounging around the front of Walker Hall in between classes; cooling one's feet in the lake; a time of functioning for many newly-formed clubs, such as the Camera Club pictured here at the left; and supporting the Warriors in the hot, sticky afternoons.

Spring Sports

The 1972 baseball season was the best ever for the Warriors. They won more games — 35 — than any other Warrior nine, while losing only eight. The season record that they broke was only a year old, and many of the same players were members of two record-breaking teams.

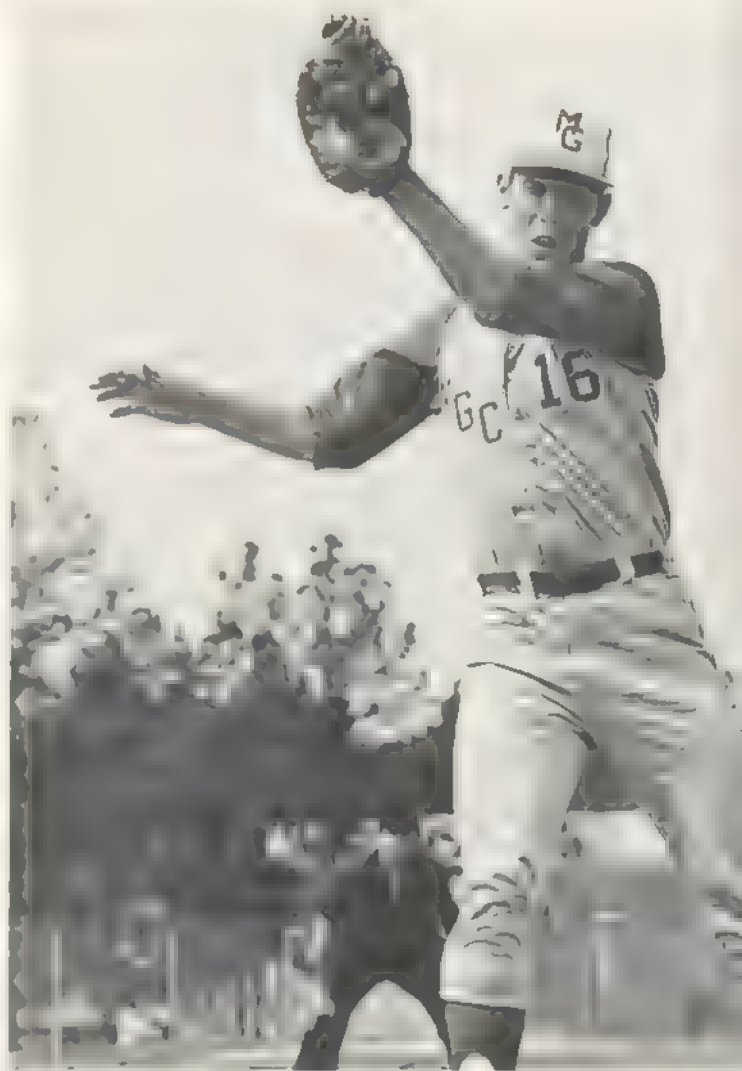

Unfortunately, one of the eight losses was to South Georgia in the State Tournament, placing MGC officially as the number two team in the state. No other junior college team came close to their overall season record, though.

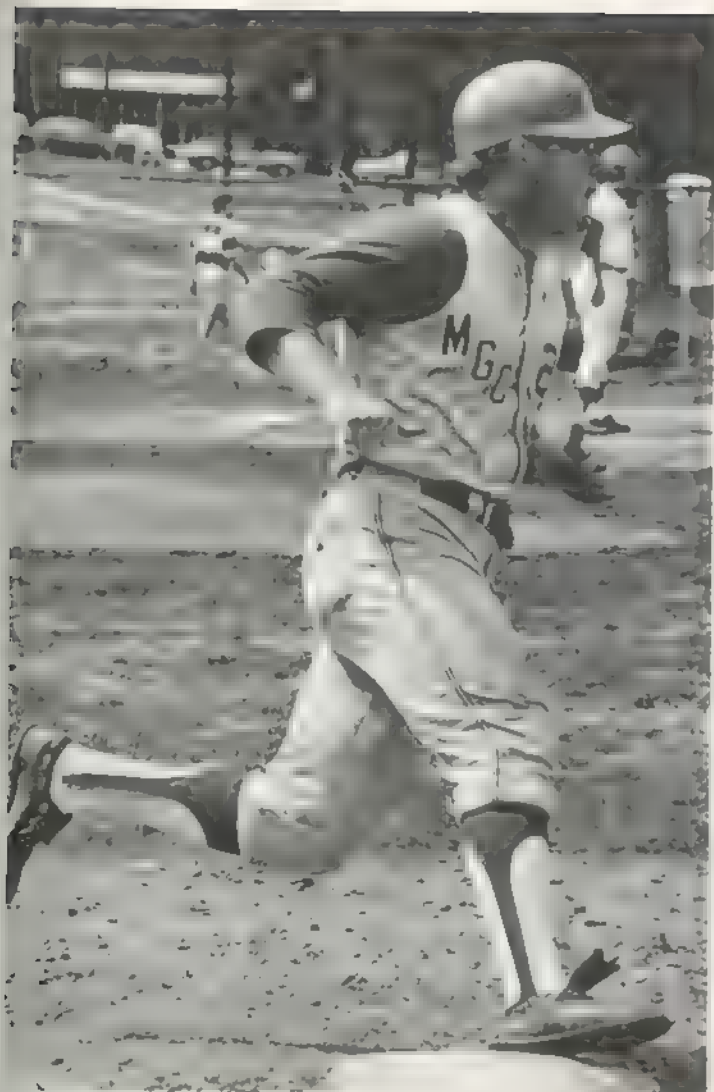

For several individual players, the season was one they will long remember for their individual performances. Wayne Hart and Chuck Adams were named to the All-State Tournament team. Six Warriors — Captain Jimmy Hamilton, Terry Thompson, Terry Shell, Ricky Goss, Ricky Stenholm, and Wayne Hart — were selected as All-Conference.

Ricky Goss finished the season with an incredible .446 batting average and tied with Terry Thompson for the stolen base lead with 22. The Warriors had a wealth of other big bats in the lineup: Terry Shell, .350; Ricky Stenholm, .338; Jimmy Hamilton, .333; Terry Thompson, .321; Don Sasser, .310; Wayne Hart, .292; and Chuck Adams, .284.

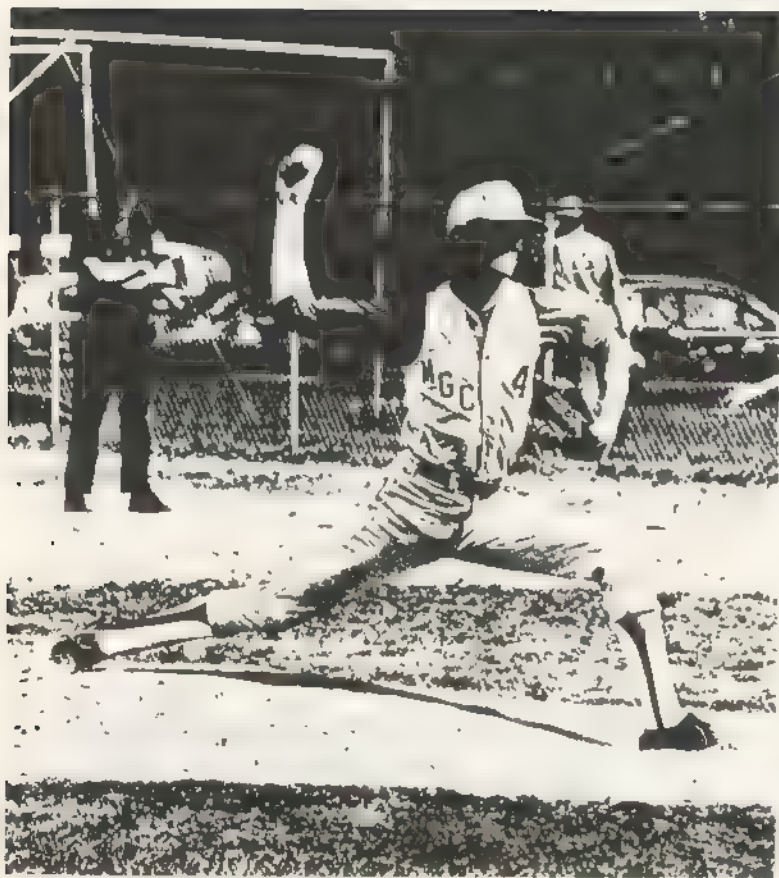

The pitching staff was equally effective. Summie Wilson was the stingiest, finishing the season with a 0.24 earned run average. Tom Ritch pitched a perfect game and allowed only 1.34 earned runs. Jimmy Bridges also finished the season in the exclusive category of those with less than a 2.0 ERA — Jimmy's was 1.69.

All sophomores received offers from four-year institutions and some were approached by the pros.

Warriors Set the Pace!

"We're in business."

Members of the Phi Beta Lambda Club enjoyed a trip to the state convention in Atlanta and were very successful. The group brought back to Middle Georgia the first place trophy for having the best exhibit in addition to the second place titles in parliamentary procedure and extemporaneous speaking.

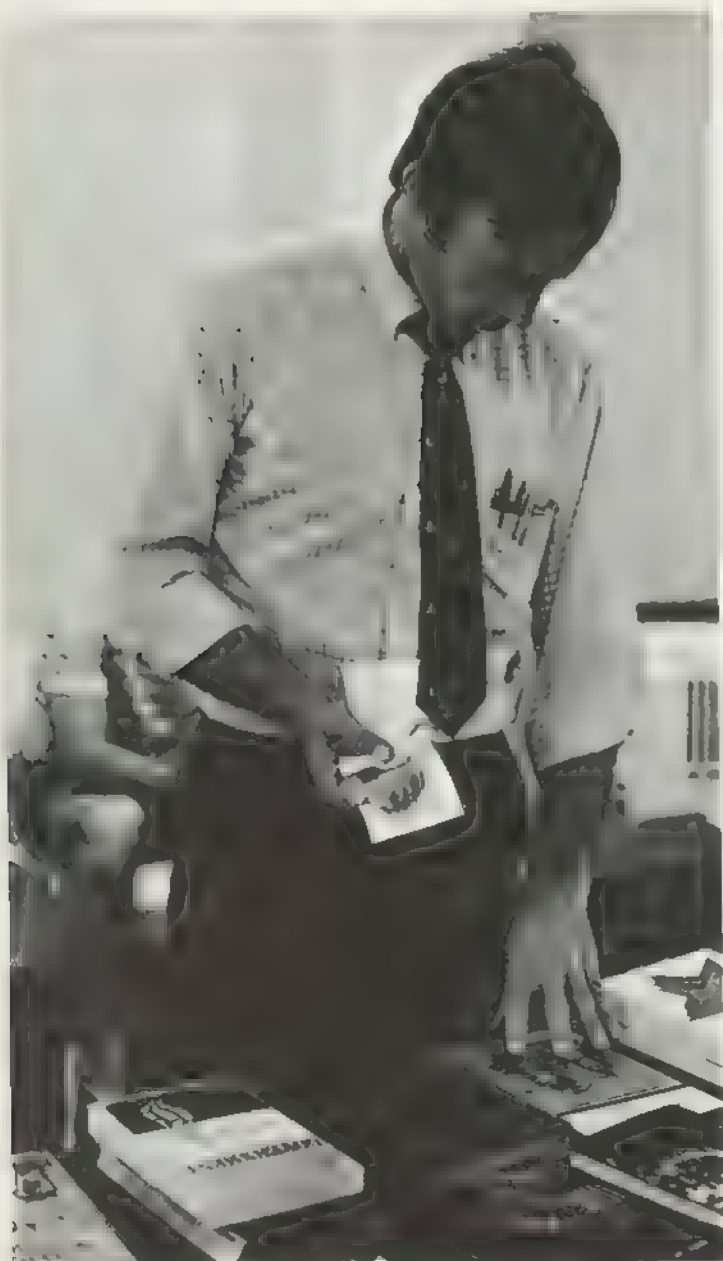

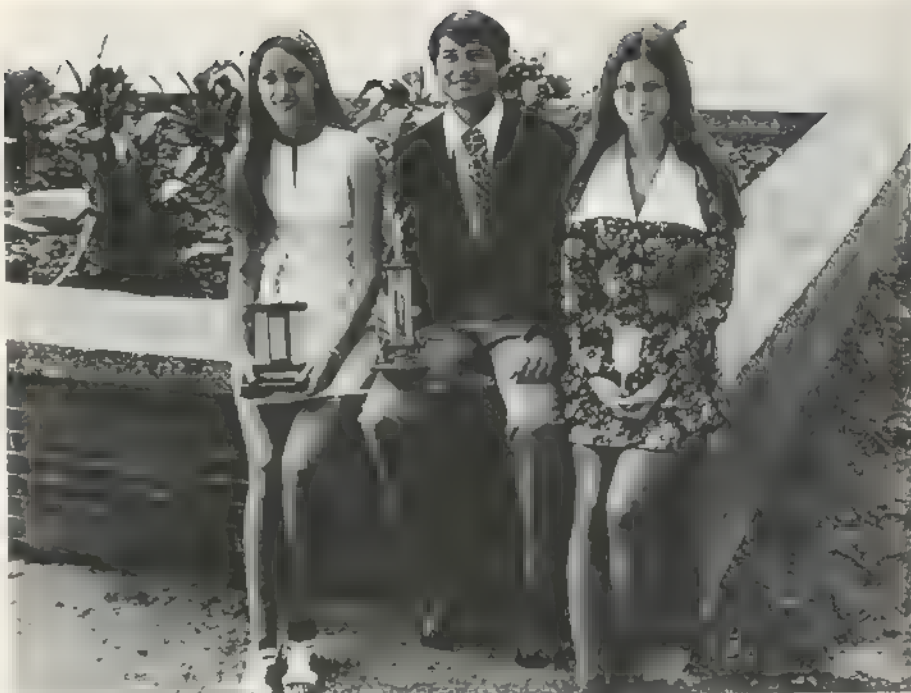

Soap . . . water . . . elbow grease.

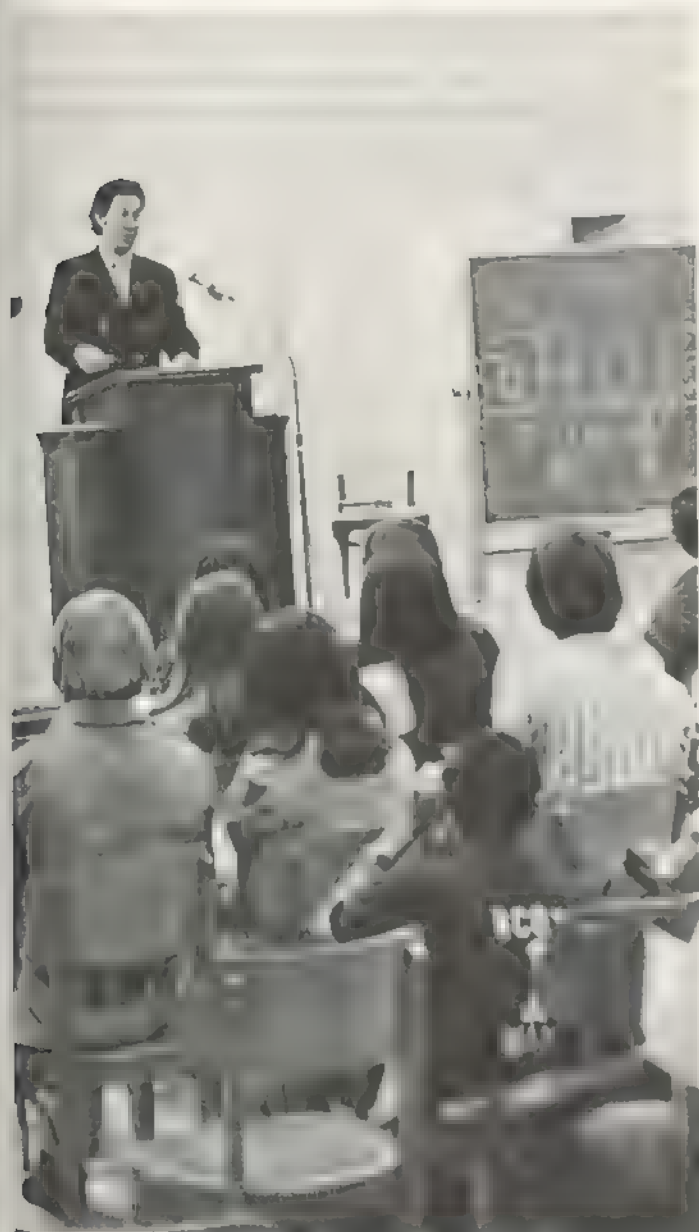

In May the Westminster Fellowship held a money-making car wash to send delegates to Explo '72 which will be held in Dallas, Texas. Harder than washing the cars was the decision, "Who is going?"

The Gamma Beta Phi under the direction of President Wendell Hollingsworth and Mr. Stembridge, sponsor, held a book fair. Members of the club collected unused books from all the teachers. The books were put on display for selection by them and the remainder was donated to the library. The members, who are former Beta Club students, gave help to students on campus who requested it. They also emphasized the importance of a college education to surrounding high schools.

David Cunningham, President of the Civitan Club, accepted the Most Outstanding Club Award and the Best Scrapbook Award for his club. Pam Stokes received the Miss Citizenship award and Susan Whaley was chosen Miss Civitan. All of these were presented at the South Georgia District Meeting.

"Hope," Book Fair, Awards

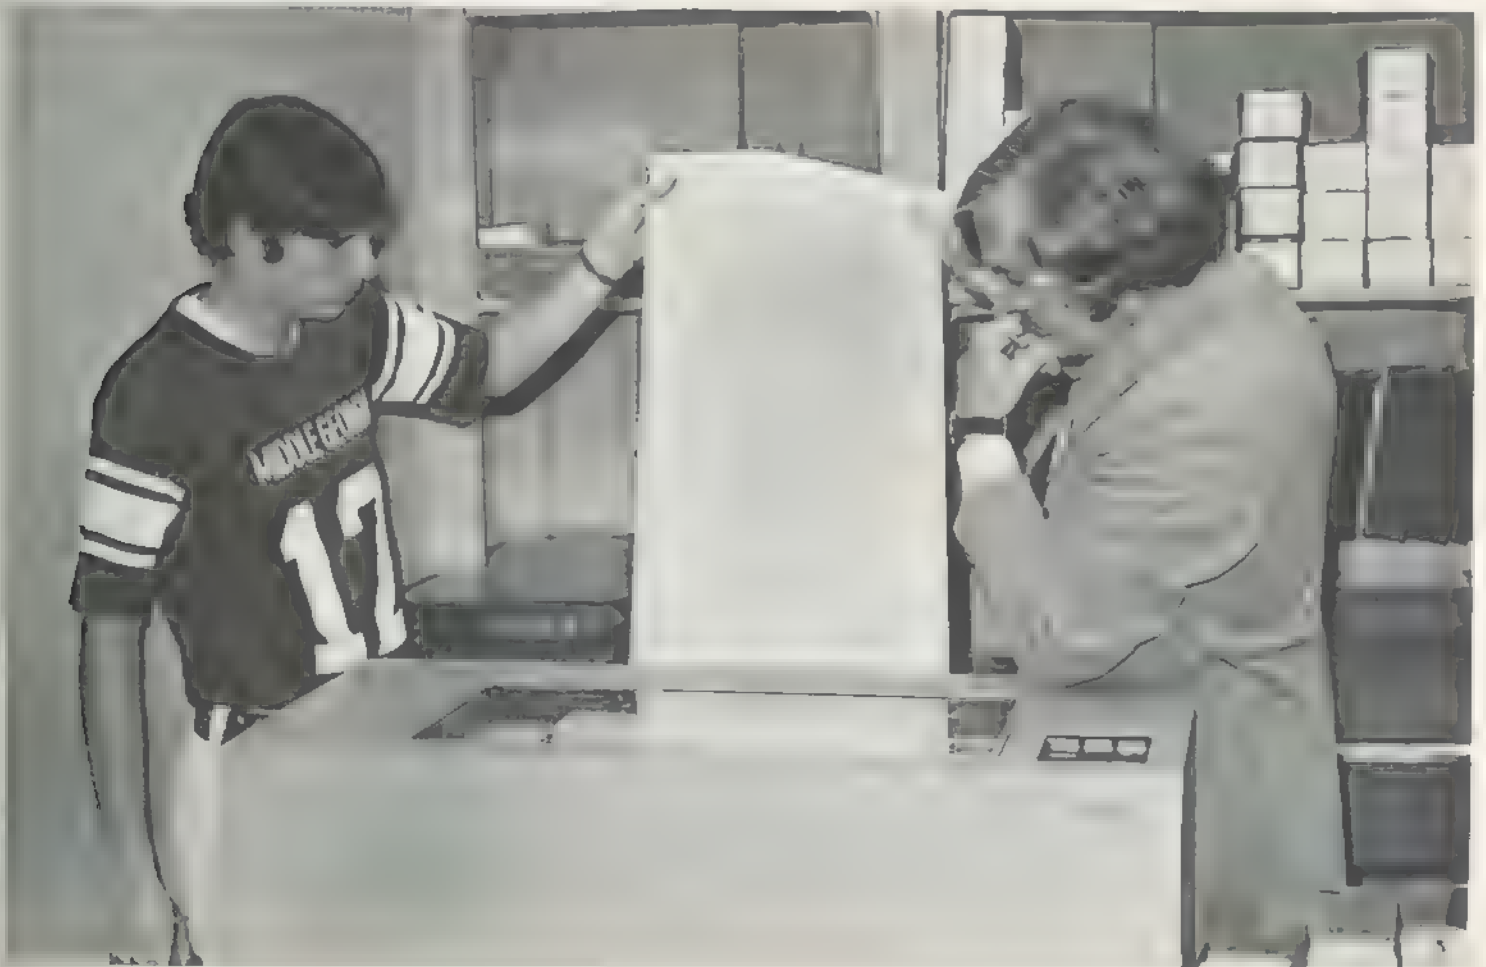

In May the Prayer Council supported an interdenominational revival on campus. Earl Davis and David Johnson were the speakers. It progressed each night, and by the end of the week, one hundred and fifty to two hundred students were attending these services.

A glance into 1972-73 SGA

For one week the students at MGC listened to the candidates' campaigns for office in the Student Government Association and had a chance to vote for the people who they believed could run the government more efficiently and make necessary changes. After a run-off election between Derry Crosby and Jimmy Roberts for the office of president, Jimmy was announced the winner. Crawford Broome was elected vice-president, Chip Parker was elected treasurer, and Gary Fleming took over the office of secretary.

Fine Arts Festival

An annual occasion, the Fine Arts Festival was the highlight of Spring Quarter. Midga Players presented A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS in Russell Hall Theater and in the Opera House in Hawkinsville. Jewelry and painting were displayed by George Gaines and Jo Anne Nix of Georgia College during the week of May 8-12.

On May 8, the applied music students at MGC gave a concert and Delta Psi Omega, national honorary drama society, initiated these students pictured at the right: Leon Alligood, Vice-President; Robert D. Burton; Marian Chappel, Secretary; Steven Cignarella, President; Derry Crosby; Rex Ottinger; Melody Ruff; and Dale Smith.

Then on May 9, Honors Day, MGC art students displayed their works around the porch of Russell Hall. That evening, Laurens Moore rendered Washington Irving's LEGEND OF SLEEPY HOLLOW. In addition, on May 11 world-famous pianist Jerold Frederic gave a performance in Russell Hall, and the Middle Georgia Choir brought the week to a close with its annual spring concert on May 14.

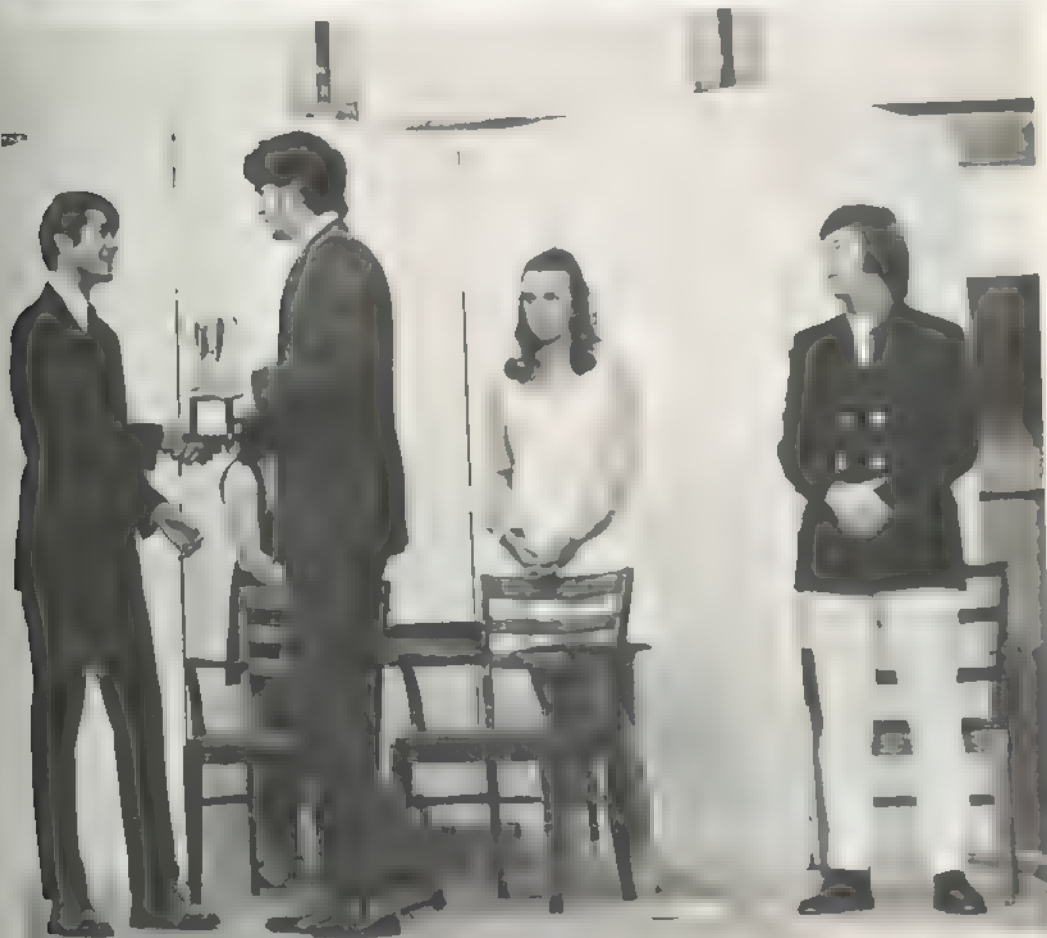

Honors Days

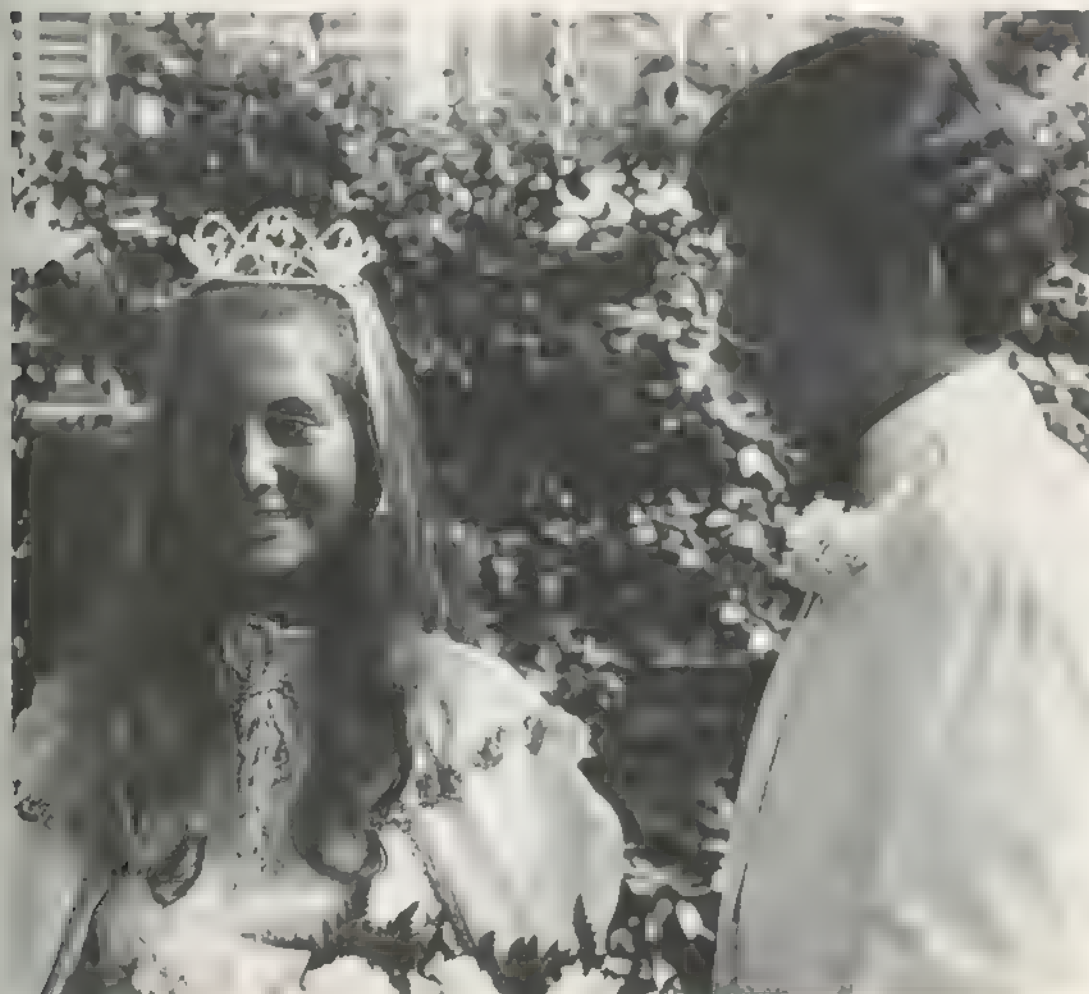

On May 10 the faculty and administration honored those students who had excelled academically or who had been chosen to appear in the 1972 listing of Who's Who in American Junior Colleges. The guest speaker for this occasion was Georgia's Senator David Gambrell. Senator Gambrell challenged students and their parents to talk with him on important issues in today's government. After the Senator's speech, the 1972 HILLTOPPER was dedicated to Mrs. Jimmy Odom.

On May 12 students who had been strong leaders in clubs and campus activities or who had been participants in intramural sports were recognized. Miss Swinson and Coach Holland presented each person with a certificate or medal for his outstanding achievements.

May Day

Eight freshmen and eight sophomores were chosen by popular vote to represent the student body on the May Court. Susan Whaley was announced Freshman Maid of Honor and Diane White was crowned May Queen by Dean Hamby, assisted by Jim Hornsby and Cindy Floyd. Talented students from the college and Cochran High School performed for the queen and her court.

A New Beginning.

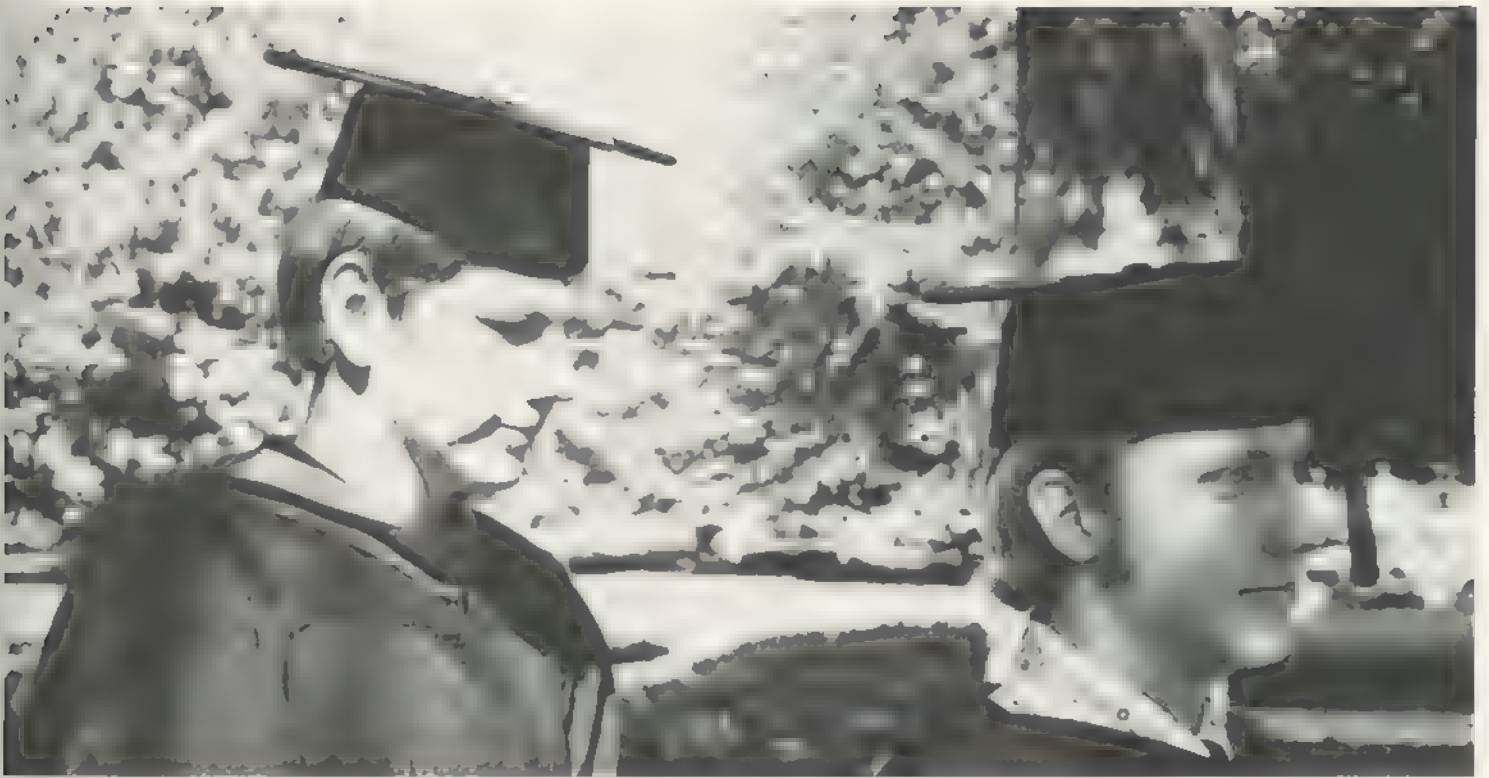

On Wednesday preceeding the commencement exercises, graduates were honored at the alumni banquet. Also special recognition was given to retirees Lillian Roush, Emmett Waggoner, W.H. Smith, Carl Kuipers, and Mary Forehand.

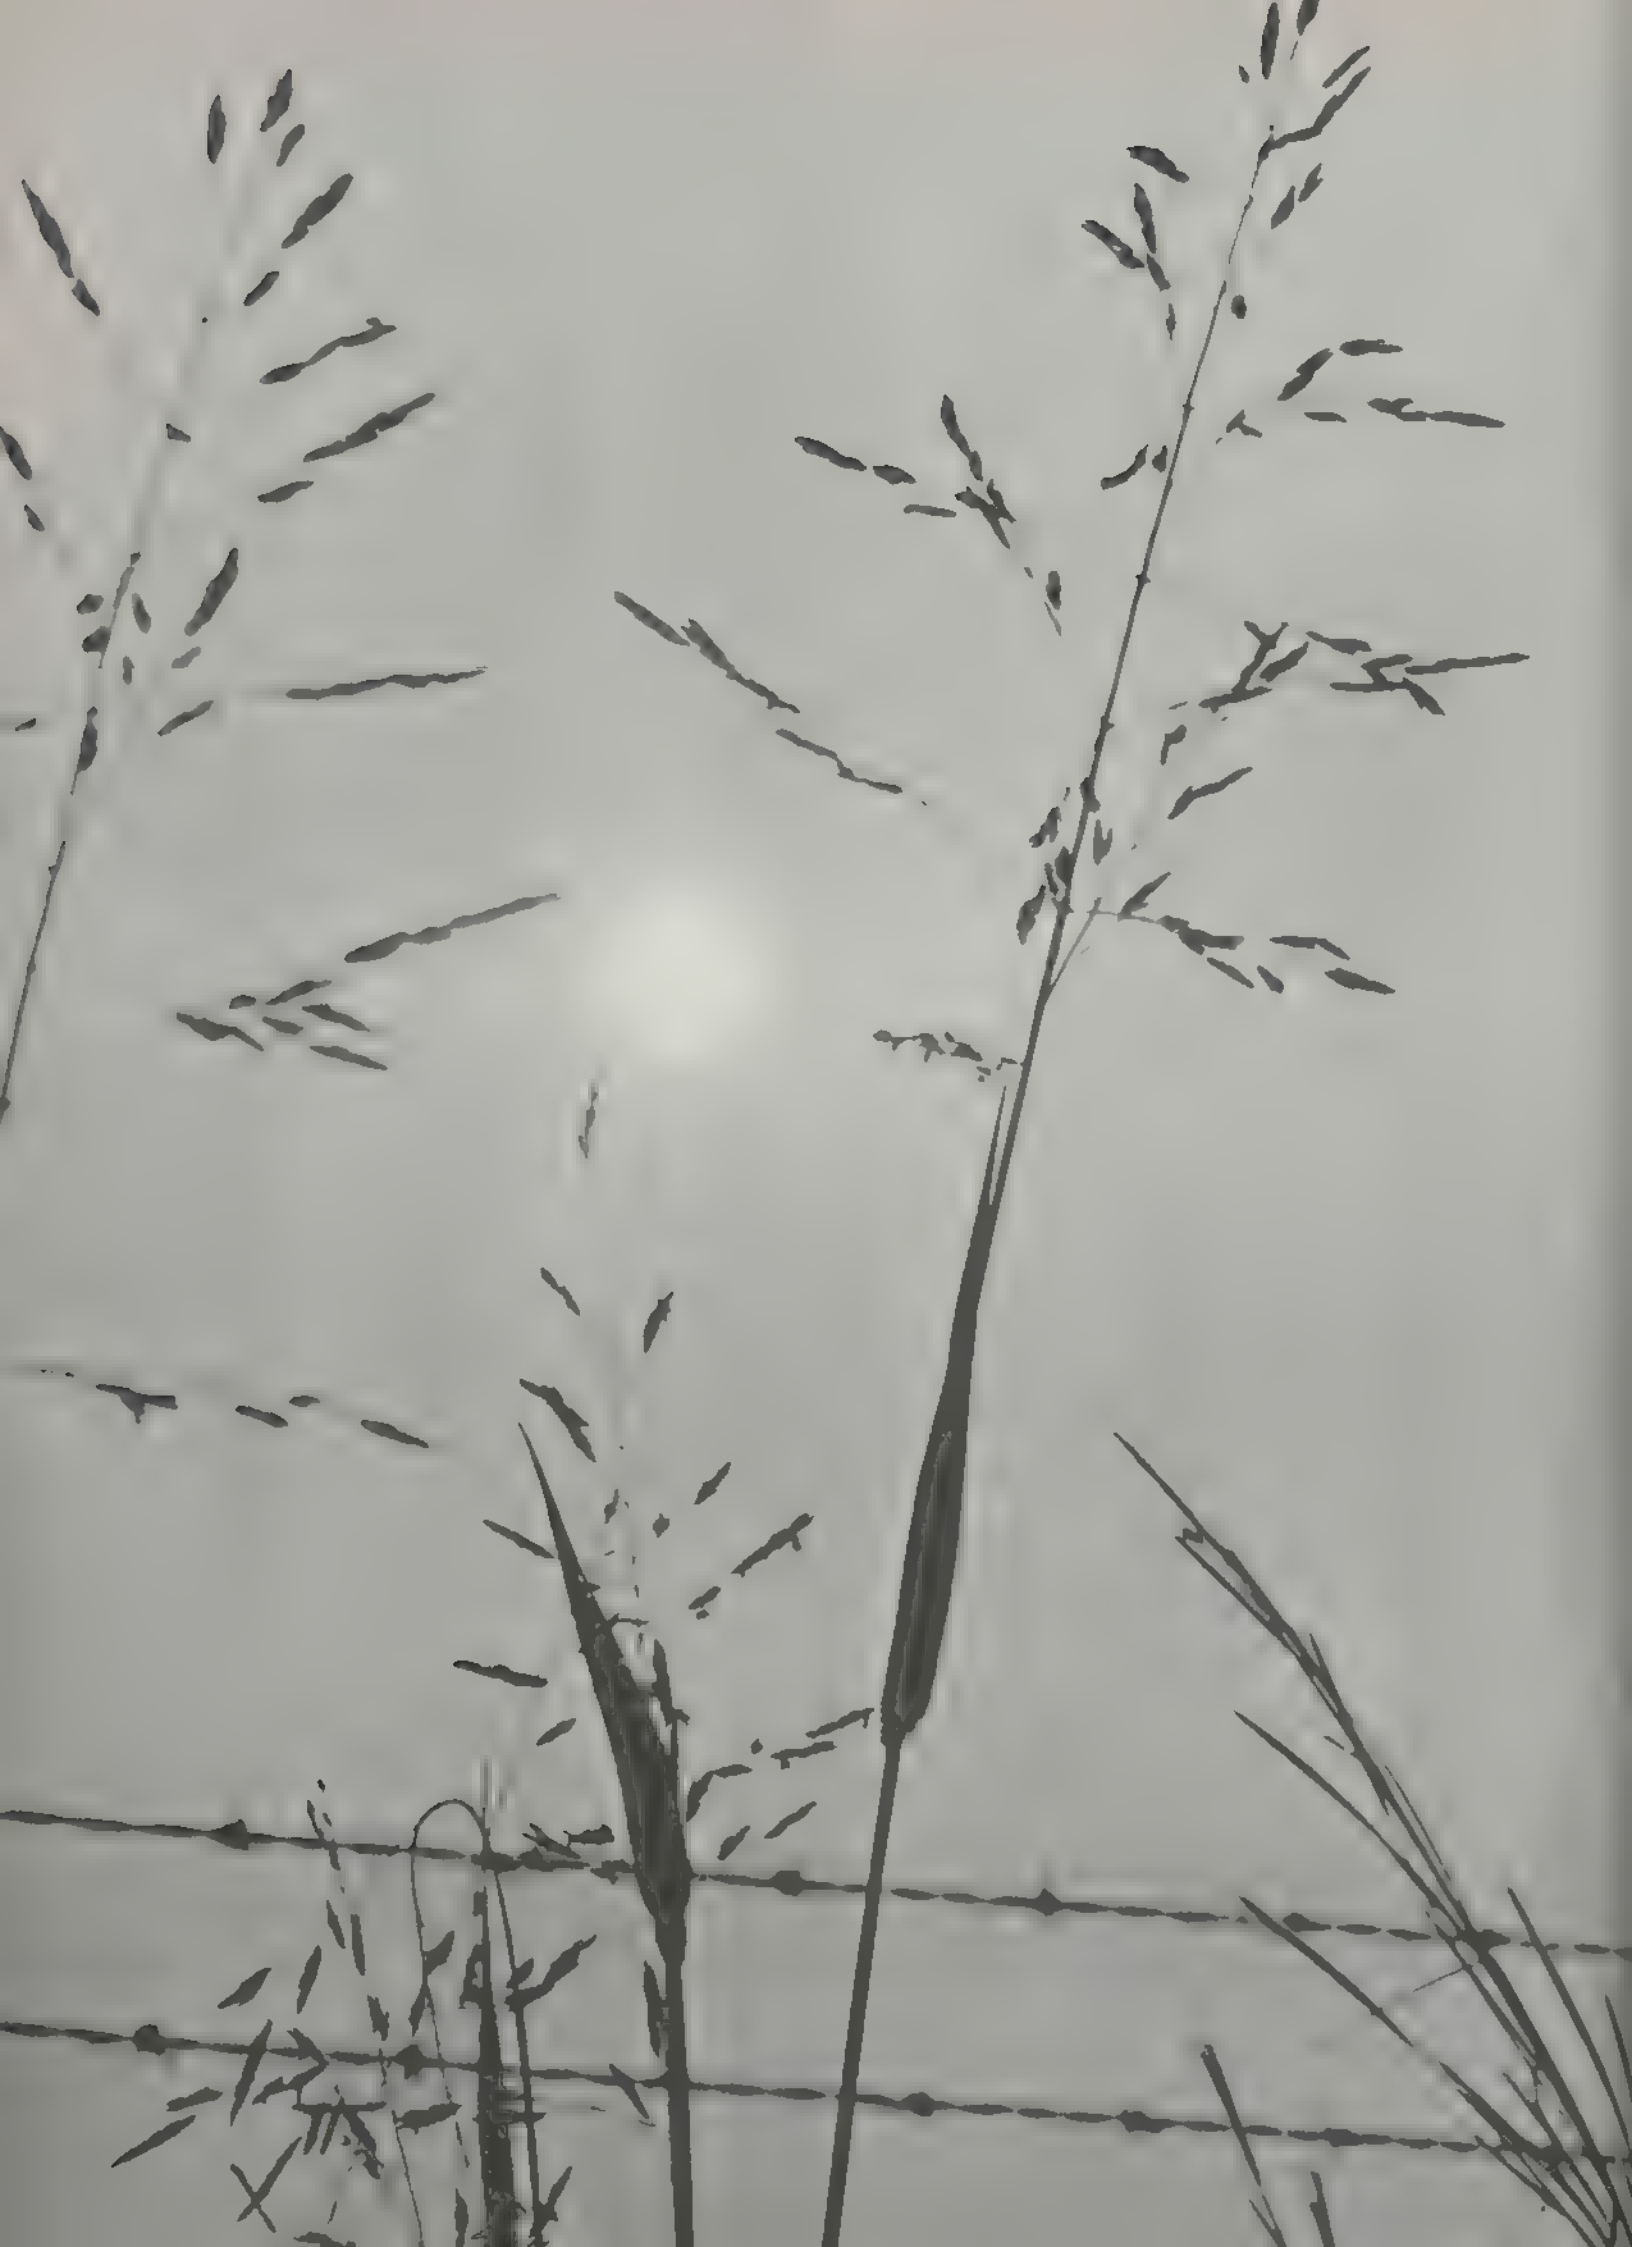

MGC's forty-third annual graduation exercise was held on Friday, June 2 in the Morris Memorial Gymnasium. Following the address by Dr. William B. King, President of Georgia Southwestern College, Dean Vidosic and President Alderman presented the graduates and awarded degrees and certificates.

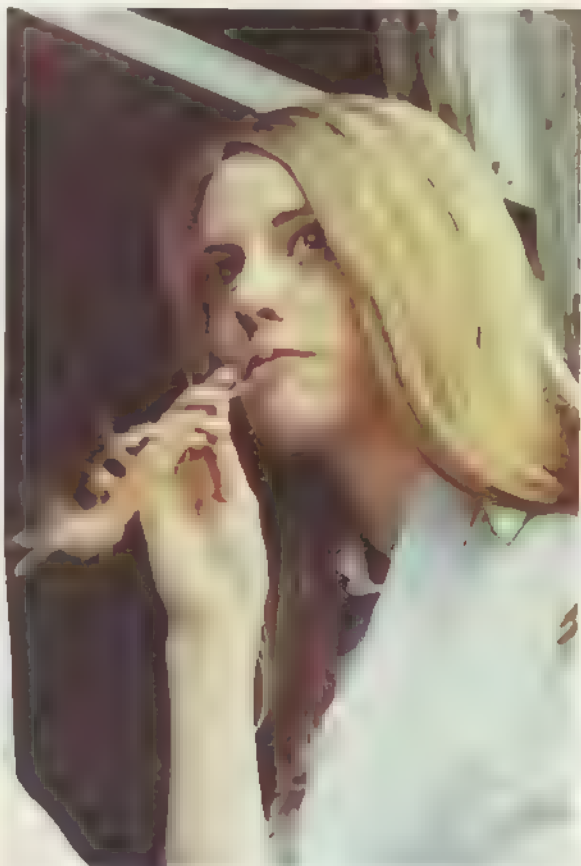

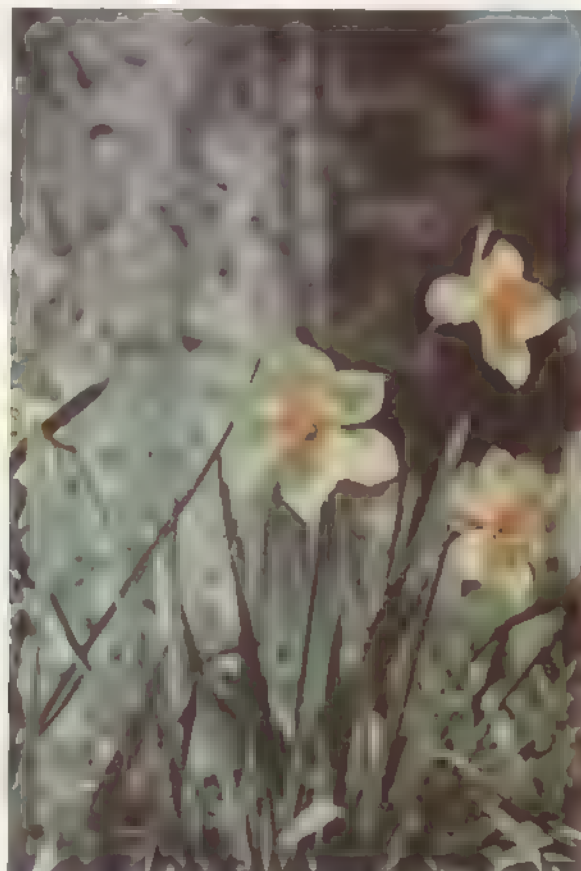

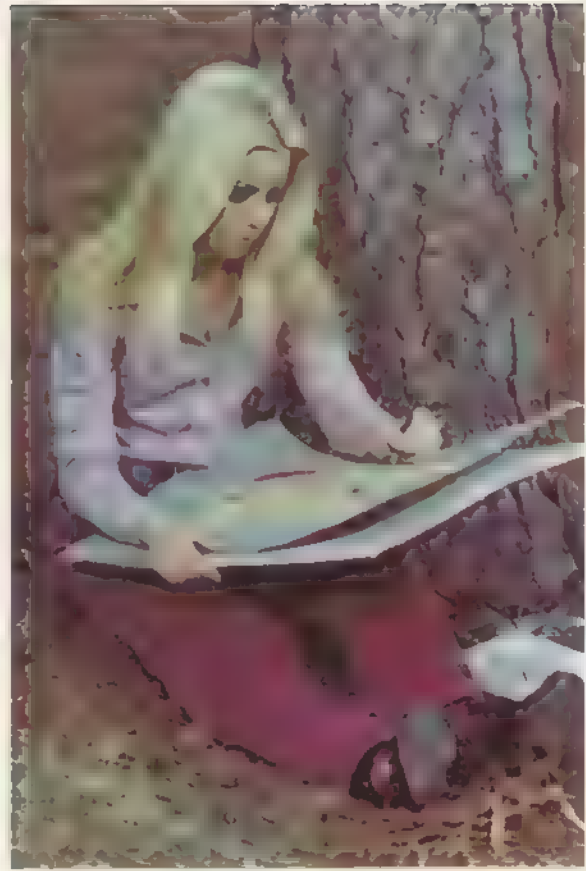

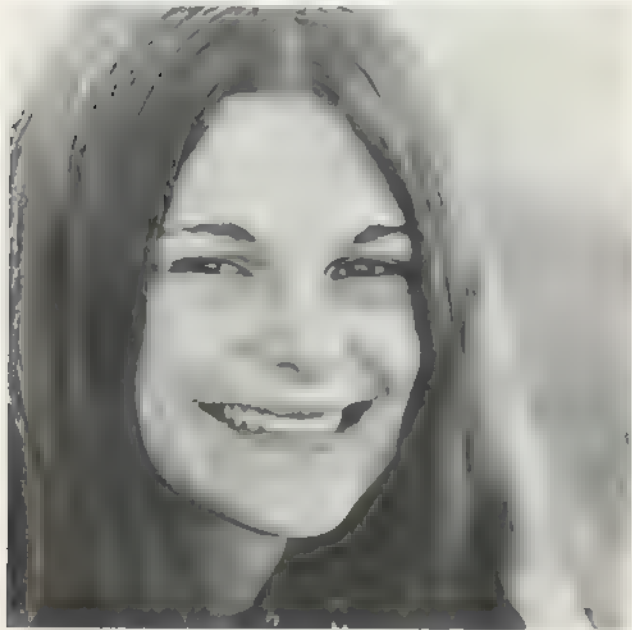

Faces of MGC students . . . collectively they represent those ideals, agonies, aspirations, disappointments, loves, hopes, dreams of American youth in search of identity in a world teeming with conflicting ideologies . . . individually they reflect unique sensibilities, personalities, goals, and abilities.

Life at Middle Georgia College . . . an array of apparently paradoxical modes of living . . . a host of personalities at once unique and homogeneous . . . the boarder finding in dorm life the responsibilities and joys of the first stay away from home . . . the commuter living in two separate but united worlds . . . the adult struggling to hold down a job in the daytime and attend class at night . . . the idealist questioning the validity of modern man's life style . . . the pragmatist seeking to keep pace with a world of accountability.

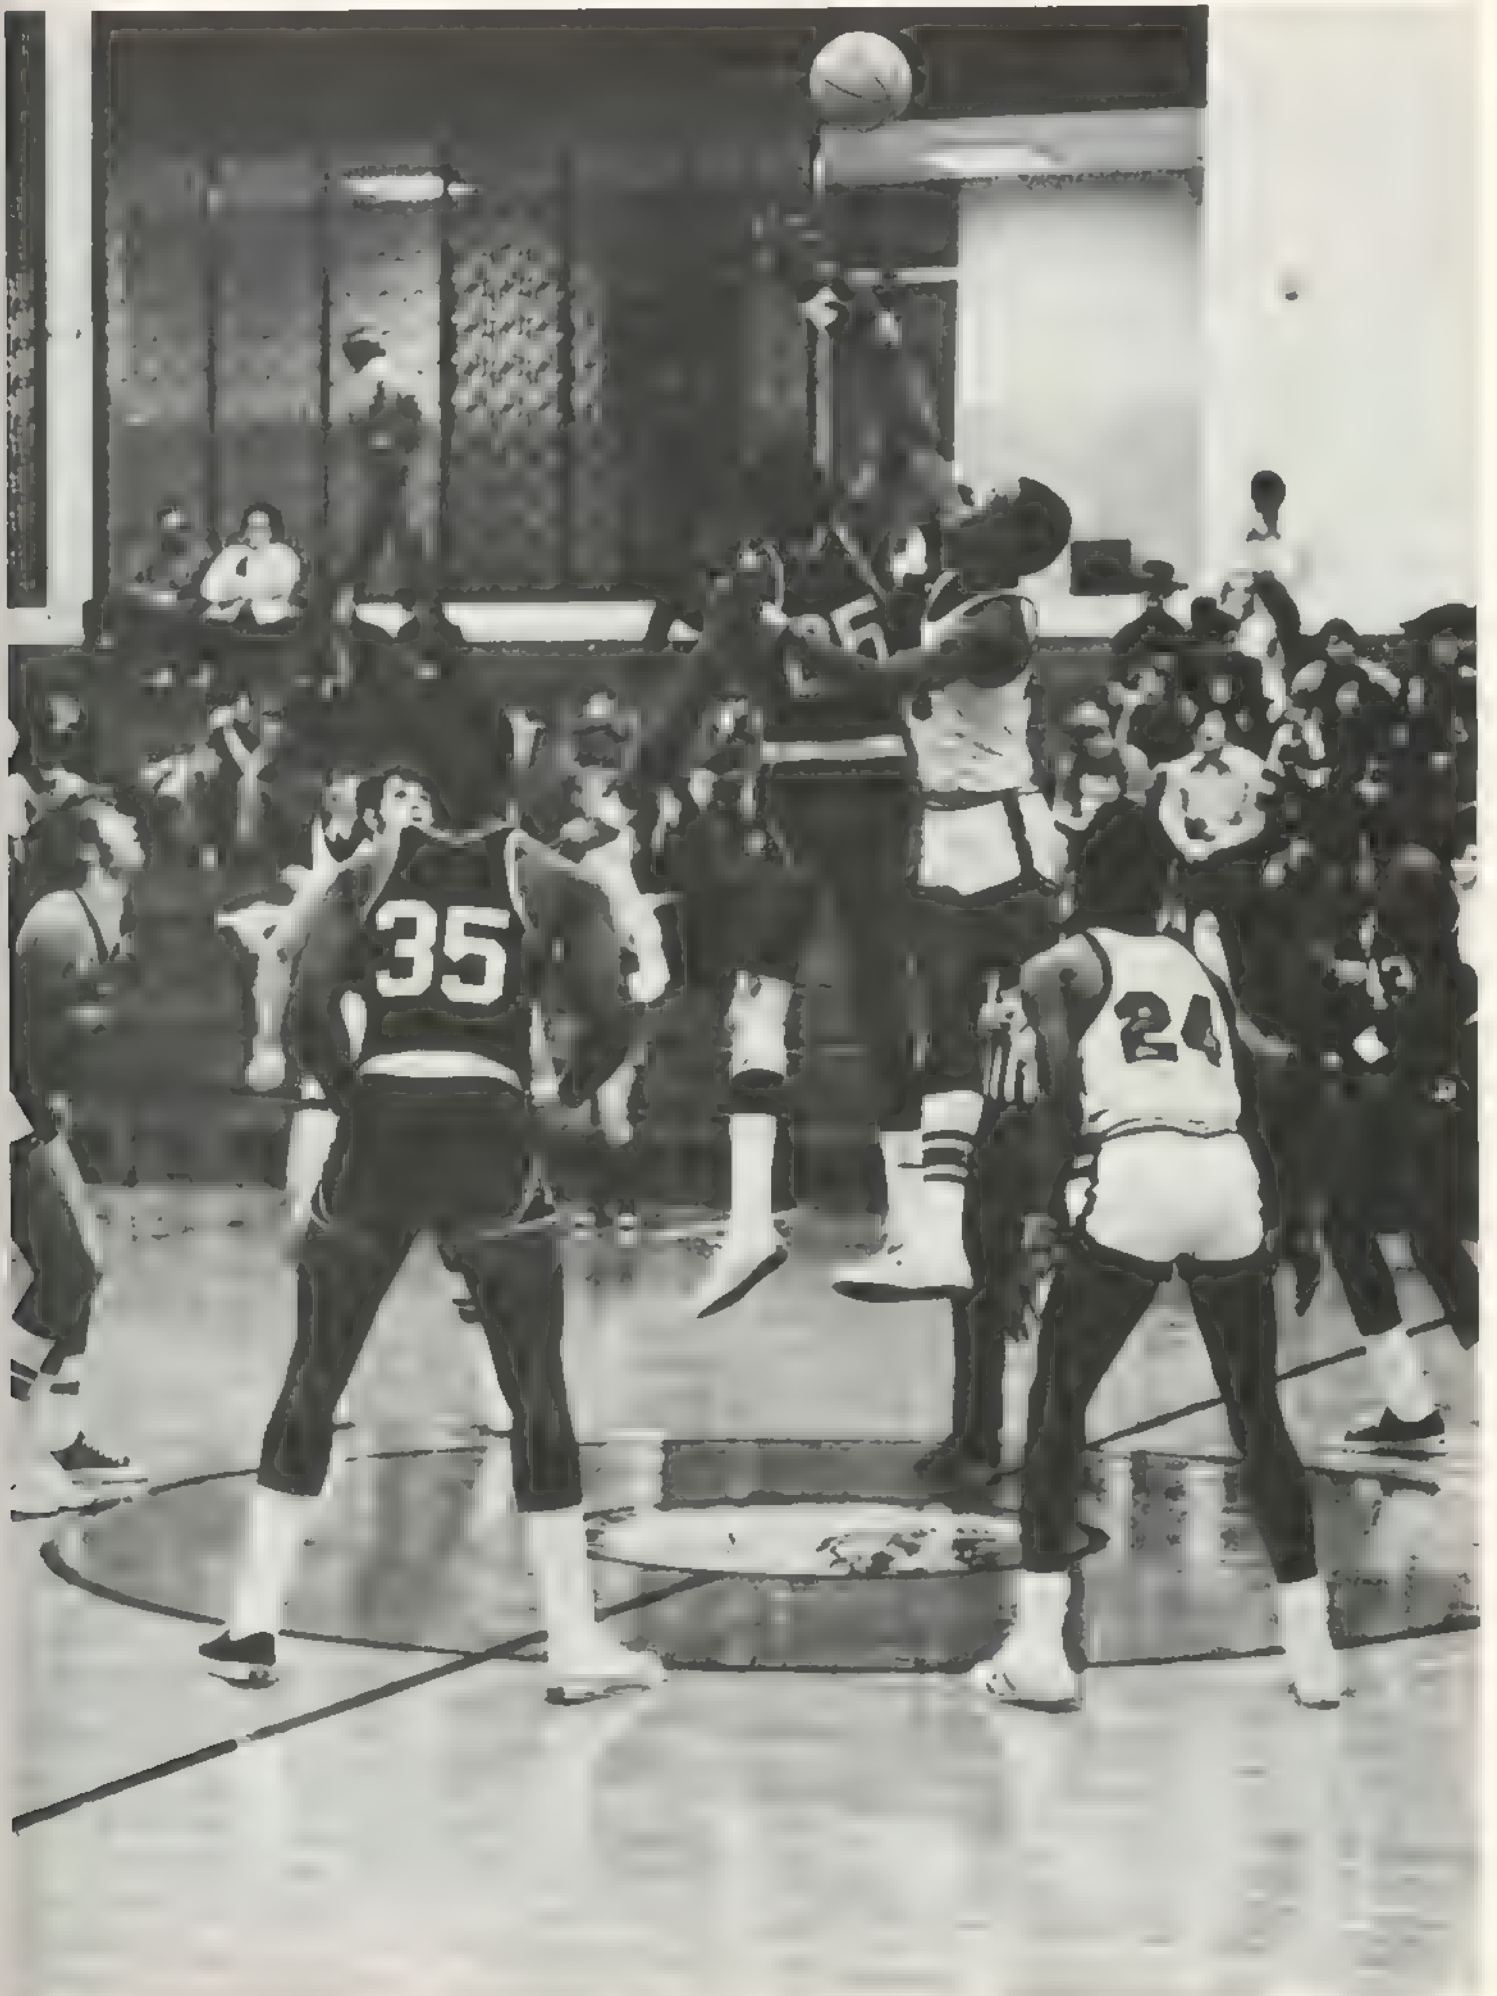

And then there are those special occasions . . . Homecoming . . . beauty pageants . . . student elections . . . Honors Days . . . basketball tournaments . . . all eagerly awaited by those whose direct participation enables them to strengthen personal capabilities and by those whose vicarious participations broadens the perspective of life.

Quiet times . . . times of reflection and meditation . . .

times of stillness, tranquillity, peace, and hope.

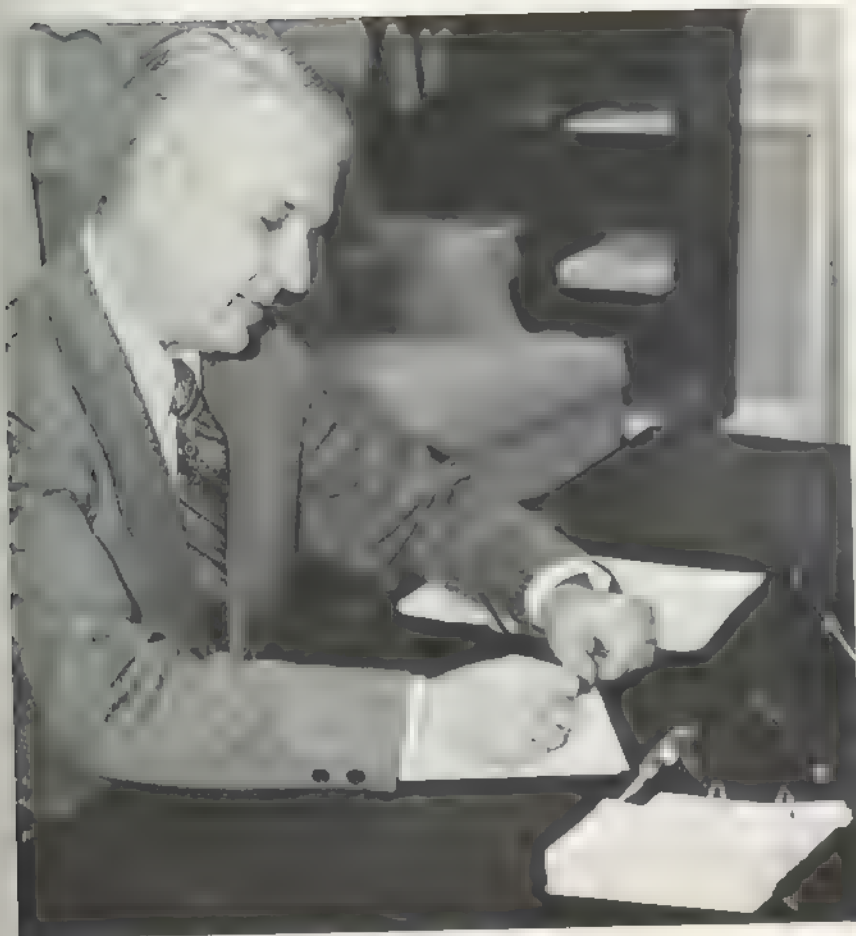

"No enjoyment, however inconsiderable, is confined to the present moment. A man is happy for life from having made once an agreeable tour or lived for any length of time with pleasant people, or enjoyed any considerable interval of innocent pleasure."

— Sydney Smith

President

Louis Cleveland Alderman was born in Douglas, Georgia, and is a graduate of South Georgia College. He received his A.B. in biology at Emory University and his M.S. in parasitology at the University of Georgia. In 1959 he received his doctorate in administration of higher education from Auburn University. Dr. Alderman and his wife, the former Anne Whipple, have four children. Dr. Alderman comments on the role of institutions of higher learning:

"In the present day when our institutions of higher education — indeed those institutions which have been traditional bastions of truth and moral concern — are severely attacked and some portions of their effectiveness destroyed, we would do well to heed a warning issued by America's great historian, Henry Steele Commager:

The college or university is the most honorable and least corrupt institution in American life. It is, with the church, the one institution that associates us with the past and the future, the one institution that has, through all of our history, served, or tried to serve, the interests of the whole of mankind and the interests of truth.

No other institution can perform the functions which the college or university performs, no other can fill the place which it has for so long filled, and with such intellectual and moral affluence.

If we destroy the college or university, we will destroy a unique institution. As the integrity of civilization depends in part on the college or university, we will be dealing an irreparable blow to a civilization now in moral peril.

We must not forget that a college or university is not only a place; it is a spirit. It is not only a collection of books, but it is men of learning. It is not only laboratories where work in science goes forward, but it is also the source of the teaching of the beauties of literature and the arts. It is not only the center where ambitious youth gathers to learn, but it is the place from whence lasting values are derived. It protests against error, and strives to lead men by reason rather than by force."

Dean of Administration

"We live in an everchanging society in which education is essential to success and personal satisfaction. Essential to success because the pleasure of survival in our highly mechanized civilization depends heavily upon the facility with which developed skills of mind and body can be applied to the complexities of modern living. Essential to personal satisfaction because an understanding of the functions, demands, and limitations of nature, society and man adds significantly to the enjoyment of living.

The need for education in the agricultural societies of past civilizations was minimal. Each family and groups of families were capable of independent existence. Their simple necessities were self-provided. Today's civilization is vastly different; specialization in skill, vocation, or profession is of maximum importance. An intricate network of communication and transportation is a must. Furthermore, a "free" society such as ours requires not the chaos of anarchy but the formulation and practice of the "Rules of the Game."

Higher education in the past consisted of the study of man's history, of one or two classical languages, of humanity's culture — art, music, architecture — of the principles of one's language, and of natural philosophy. These studies add much to our understanding and appreciation of life even today. But, current educational requirements are broader and deeper. Our civilization is highly technical and tremendously complex. Our store of knowledge is highly scientific. Therefore, all education must include sufficient study of the method, history, significance, impact, and implication of science and technology. Just as technology must appreciate the ways of society, so society must possess some knowledge of technology. Culture and values involve technology. Furthermore, rapid change dictates more pertinency in our studies. In addition, the rapidly-increasing store of knowledge demands a more thoughtful subject selection and possibly new teaching-learning modes.

Education is making some progress, but change is slow and painful. Somehow it must be eased and possibly accelerated. Continuing or adult education will likely assume a much larger role.

Personal goals are likewise important in the achievement of success and satisfaction. To reach meritorious goals, one must strive for self-esteem, use the power of reason to the fullest, be truthful, believe in what is right, treat other people respectably, and take pride in oneself and his society.

Failure is often present in our endeavors. But, if we accept that it means only delay, not defeat, our full potential will be realized."

— Dean J.P. Vidosic

Dedication

It is not unusual to hear a student remark, "Her classes are so interesting."

It is not unusual to see her helping a weak student on his term paper after class.

It is not unusual to see her laughing with students outside of class.

It is not unusual to see her with a proportioning wheel, ruler, and layout sheets working very hard on the HILLTOPPER.

She is at her best when things are at their worst. Thus, a very deserving person . . . Mrs. Jimmy Odom.

1971-72 Warriors Basketball Team

Looking back over Middle Georgia College's 1971-1972 season of thirteen wins and fifteen loses, one might find disappointments. But the accomplishments far outshine the disappointments: Middle Georgia had a fine homecoming by defeating the University of South Carolina at Aiken. It came in third in the tournament at Ocala, Florida, defeated big enemies and play-off bound ABAC and Truett-McConnell, and also defeated another one of its big rivals, South Georgia College, at home and at their gym.

Besides scoring points, Middle Georgia also developed some outstanding ball players for next year in Jimmy Patton, co-captain Lamar Kirkley, Rafor Watson, Frank Bedford, Melvin Robinson, and Elmo Seay.

Leaving Middle Georgia are Richard Oglesbee, co-captain Willie Watkins, and Mike Ross. Richard sometimes started and sometimes came off the bench but always added spark to the team. Willie's scoring consistency, which set school records at Middle Georgia, and all around hustle will surely make him a fine major college player. Mike's aggressiveness on the offensive and defensive boards will definitely make him a valuable four year player.

WILLIE WATKINS
 Class: Sophomore
 Height: 5'11"
 Position: Guard
 Hometown: Montgomery, Ala.
 Coach's Comments:
 "Willie, a fine outside shooter and ballhandler, led the Warriors in scoring for two years and holds the school records for career total points — 947 — and most points in a single season — 524."

JIMMY PATTON
 Class: Freshman
 Height: 6'0"
 Position: Guard
 Hometown: Chattanooga, Tenn.
 Coach's Comments:
 "Jimmy became a starter at mid-year and averaged scoring in double figures the rest of the year. He should be a top scorer next year with good shooting, tough defense, and a great desire."

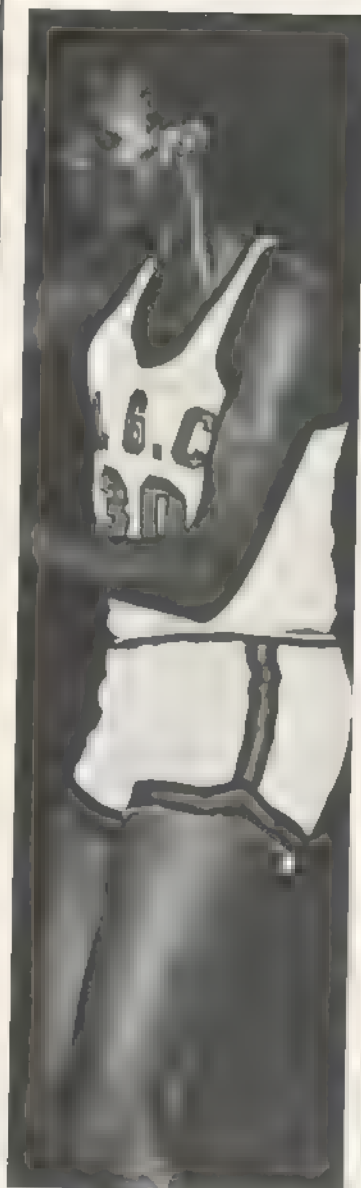

RICHARD OGLESBEE
 Class: Sophomore
 Height: 5'10"
 Position: Guard
 Hometown: Thomaston, Ga.
 Coach's Comments:
 "Richard was a tough defensive player. His good basketball head made him the quarterback of the team."

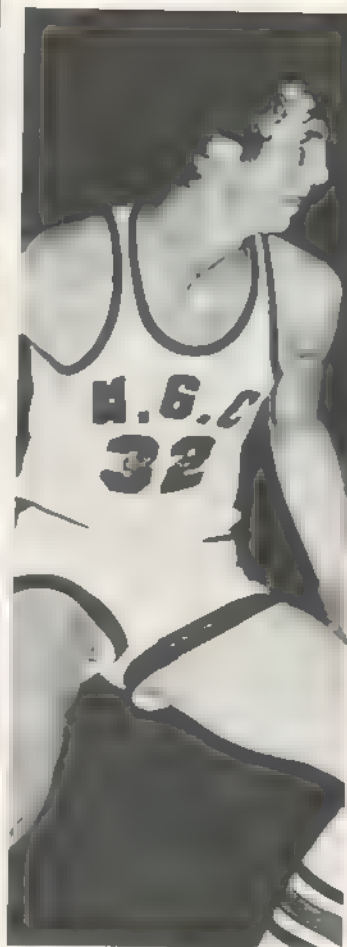

MIKE ROSS
 Class: Sophomore
 Height: 6'5"
 Position: Forward
 Hometown: Jacksonville, Fla.
 Coach's Comments:
 "Mike was a standout for the Warriors for two years. His excellent quickness, fine outside shooting, good jumping and 100% effort make him a good four-year prospect."

MELVIN ROBINSON
 Class: Freshman
 Height: 6'5"
 Position: Center
 Hometown: Albany, Ga.
 Coach's Comments:
 "Melvin was one of the most improved players on the team, and he gave the Warriors muscle 'down the stretch.' Melvin's quickness, aggressiveness, and jumping ability are sure to make him a stand-out next year."

RAFORD WATSON
 Class: Freshman
 Height: 6'5"
 Position: Forward
 Hometown: Irwington, Ga.
 Coach's Comments:
 "Raford has excellent quickness for a big man and a good jumper who goes to the basket well. He earned a starting job toward the end of the season, and he possesses the ability to be a stand-out."

FRANK BEDFORD
 Class: Freshman
 Height: 6'5"
 Position: Guard
 Hometown: Thomaston, Ga.
 Coach's Comments:
 "Frank improved greatly toward the end of the season. He was one of the best shooters on the team and with improved ballhandling will play wing guard for the Warriors next year."

ELMO SEAY
 Class: Freshman
 Height: 6'8"
 Position: Center
 Hometown: Thomaston, Ga.
 Coach's Comments:
 "Elmo missed the first half of the year with a broken arm, but he improved rapidly once he got started. Elmo can be as good as he wants to, and he should give the Warriors inside strength next year."

LAMAR KIRKLY

Class: Freshman

Height: 6'2"

Position: Forward

Hometown: Milan, Ga.

Coach's Comments.

"Lamar was a 100 percent player who led by examples. He was the leading rebounder on the team although he had to go against 6'7" or 6'8" boys. Lamar has great desire and is a cinch to be a top four-year player."

Assuming the responsibility of editing the 1972 HILLTOPPER is perhaps the most exciting and the most difficult responsibility which I have ever undertaken. Even though I realize that some will find fault, I sincerely hope that this book will help you as an individual to recapture and relive a few moments at Middle Georgia College, whether it be the Homecoming dance, featuring Hamilton, Joe, Frank, and Reynolds; the tied score, the fast-moving clock, and finally the two points which won the basketball game against ABAC; the complicated calculus final; or the many hours spent in the library diligently working on that term paper which determined whether you aced English 102.

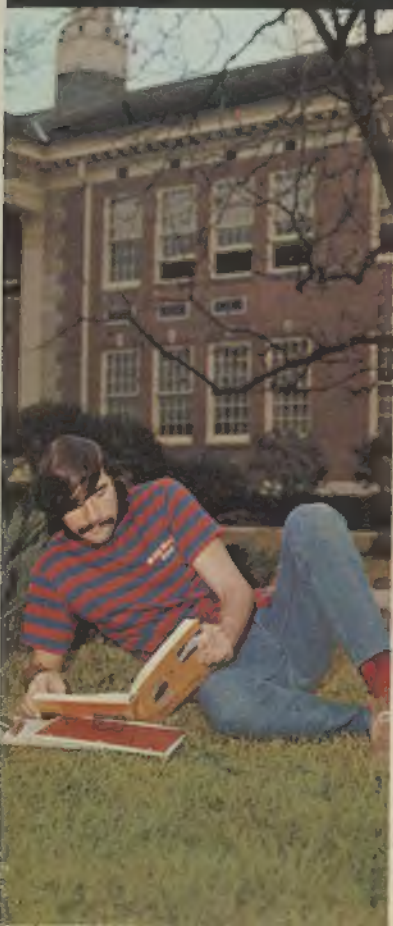

My special thanks go to our sponsors Mrs. Odom and Mrs. Kesling for their advice and patience, to Cissie, Scott, and Warren for their hard work, and to every other person who had a part in the 1972 HILLTOPPER. Good luck to all of you.

Mary Jo Brantley
Editor

SPECIFICATIONS: Printed through the offset lithography process by Hunter Publishing Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Basic paper stock is Dull Enamel with Saxony for the four-color flat. Cover manufactured by Kingscraft Covers, Kingsport, Tennessee. Publisher's representative — John James. Portrait photography by Jim Littleton of Hewett Studios. Back cover quotation by Thornton Wilder.

HILLTOPPER

"What is education?"

It is the bridge man crosses . . .

from the self-enclosed,
self-favoring life . . .

into a consciousness of the entire community of mankind."
